Israel Ready To Withdraw

Probe Told Labor Bosses Sought Gaming Monopoly

Mayor Defeated After Refusing To "Play Ball"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Senate investigators were told today the Teamsters Union helped defeat a mayor of Portland, Ore., because he didn't cooperate in plans to expand the city's vice operations.

James B. Elkins, a Portland gambler, also testified that union bosses were involved in an attempt to set up a $100,000 a year punchboard monopoly in Portland.

Elkins said that in 1955 he was a front man for a combination of Teamsters Union officials and racketeers who hoped to branch out from Portland and "take over the whole state of Oregon."

He told his story to a special Senate committee which has opened a broad investigation of alleged racketeering in labor groups and industry.

As a front man, Elkins said, he was being pressured to open up more gambling joints, houses of prostitution, punchboard operations and the like in Portland. He said he told them it couldn't be done while the police kept raiding places as soon as they were opened.

Elkins testified he was told the combination would have Clyde Crosby, international organizer of the teamsters in Oregon, see Mayor Fred L. Peterson "and tell him to change the chief of police if he wouldn't play ball."

Police Chief Stayed In Office

The witness said the police chief, whom he identified as James Purcell, stayed in office but Mayor Peterson was defeated for reelection and succeeded by Mayor Terry D. Shrunk.

"So they weren't successful in removing the police chief, were they?" asked Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), a committee member.

"No, but they were successful in getting the mayor defeated," Elkins replied.

Today's hearing opened with a report that Carl Elkins, James' 61-year-old brother, had received a death threat last night. Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) immediately declared that all witnesses in the inquiry will be protected and "the challenge to law and order" met.

James Elkins today named two Seattle gamblers, Thomas Maloney and Joseph McLaughlin, as part of the shock troops imported in the alleged attempt to take over in Portland.

In response to questions, Elkins said he had no doubt they acted as agents of Frank W. Brewster, head of the 11-state Western Conference of Teamsters.

Scheme Fell Through

He testified Maloney and McLaughlin often talked with Brewer on the telephone "when things wasn't going very good." He said this included things in San Francisco as well as Portland and Seattle, although he gave no details about San Francisco.

Elkins indicated the punchboard scheme fell through because an organization of punchboard operators objected to the monopoly given to Norman Nemer.

He said the Teamsters Union "took in" Nemer and let him put Teamster Union stickers on the punchboards. This meant that no other punchboard operators could then get their boards behind store counters, Elkins said, because the stores were afraid the union would half deliveries of beer, bread and other supplies.

The witness said Maloney once bragged that the punchboard monopoly was so airtight that "he'd crawl to Seattle on his knees" if any other outfit succeeded in getting in.

15-Year-Old Boy Reenacts Slaying

William Monks, 15, held in the bludgeon slaying of Miss Giovanna Giambra, 25, Paterson, N. J., secretary and church worker, last Nov. 12, points out the spot in the Passaic River where, detectives said, he threw the woman's purse and piece of pipe with which she was killed. With Monks are Passaic County and Paterson detectives. Deputy Attorney General Charles S. Joelson said that the "very clean-looking boy" also admitted the brutal beating of a 42-year-old New York woman in the same area in February of last year. (AP Photofax)

Repaired In Flight, Airliner Carrying 26 Is Landed Safely

DETROIT, Feb. 27 (AP)—A four-engine Capital Airlines passenger plane, aloft for five hours with a jammed landing gear, landed safely at Willow Run Airport today after a dramatic in-flight repair job over Lake Erie.

Engineers, flown from airline headquarters in Washington to the side of the stricken Constellation, radioed instructions that enabled the crew to fix the stuck assembly after the hydraulic fluid had leaked out.

The ship, flight No. 930 carrying a crew of five and 21 passengers on a flight from Minneapolis to Philadelphia, came down with the airport cleared for a crash landing.

Capt. William Richie of Minneapolis, the plane commander, brought the huge craft to a halt at the end of a runway lined with ambulances, fire engines and emergency crash trucks.

The big plane rocked gently on its main wheels, then almost gingerly touched the nose gear to the concrete runway.

The gear, slightly bent, locked in position and the plane coasted in, like thousands of others do daily.

The passengers to a man insisted there never was any panic.

"We learned 10 minutes before we landed that we were going to be all right," said Gene Bradshaw of Philadelphia.

The plane crew discovered the faulty gear after taking off from Milwaukee's Gen. Matchill Field at 1:10 p.m. EST.

Capt. Richie reported the ship in distress almost immediately.

He circled the Milwaukee field for two hours and 40 minutes while crewmen struggled fruitlessly to lower the jammed wheel gear.

Richie—the decision his alone—decided on continuing to Detroit in the hope an emergency dive

U. S. Minister Quits Hungary

BUDAPEST, Feb. 27 (AP)—U. S. Minister Edward T. Wailes delivered a final snub to Hungary's Communist government today and, bowing to Red pressure, headed home.

After 17 weeks in Budapest, he quietly quit the country without ever presenting his credentials to the Red regime of Premier Janos Kadar, which could have regarded the presentation as American recognition.

Wailes, a former assistant secretary of state, did not even notify the Red hierarchy in advance that he was leaving.

Ile De France Refloated After Running Aground

PARIS, Feb. 27 (AP)—The liner Ile de France, cruising the Caribbean with 780 passengers, ran aground last night on the island of Martinique.

The French Line said she was refloated and returned today to Fort de France, capital of the French island.

If no damage is found, the liner will continue her cruise to Curacao and Panama. The cruise started in New York Feb. 21.

Parents Of Tot Believed Kidnaped Issue Appeal

BELLMAWR, N.J., Feb. 27 (AP)—While police continued their search for a missing 4-year-old girl believed kidnaped, her grief-stricken parents today publicly appealed for her safe return.

The mystery of Mary Jane Barker's disappearance last Monday morning while at play in a nearby yard was intensified by the fact that a neighbor's puppy also was missing.

Today was Mary Jane's birthday—and that deepened the grief of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barker as they prayed for their daughter's return.

Mrs. Barker cried softly as she told newsmen in the living room of her small home that the kidnaper should leave Mary Jane "at any church."

"We promise from the bottom of our hearts to do all that we can to keep you from harm," Mrs. Barker said in appealing to the one she believes abducted her youngest child. She has two other children—Frank Jr., 12, and Carol Ann, 10.

The parents and police placed great stress on the missing cocker spaniel puppy.

Barker, a department store radio and television manager, said he hopes the disappearance of the dog means that Mary Jane was taken by some one with a love for animals—and children.

As hundreds of volunteers and police scoured every possible nook and cranny in the Bellmawr area authorities in other areas were asked to join in the search for the girl. FBI agents were on hand in an "unofficial" capacity.

Ike Mideast Aid Plan Criticized As 'Pig In Poke'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga), making a new effort to limit the scope of President Eisenhower's Middle East program, said today Congress was being asked to buy "a pig in the poke."

He urged the Senate to strip from the Middle East resolution the authority for Eisenhower to spend up to 200 million dollars on military and economic aid for Middle Eastern nations.

"We have been trying to get information about this secret program," said Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, "but they insist we jump into the dark.

"I refuse to abandon my congressional responsibility to buy a pig in the poke."

Green Opposes Changes

If Russell's amendment is adopted it would reduce the Middle East resolution to a declaration that the United States is ready to use American armed forces against any Communist aggression in the area if the nation under attack asks for help and the President deems it necessary.

Sen. Green (D-RI), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, called for adoption of the resolution as it now stands. He said it represents "a compromise position which deserves the support of as large a group of senators as possible."

Close Vote Forecast

The bipartisan Senate leadership predicted the vote on Russell's amendment would be close. "But I think it will be defeated," Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP leader, added.

Sen. Bush (R-Conn), supporting the resolution, deplored what he called "savage and intemperate attacks" on Secretary of State Dulles as well as "what have appeared to be tactics of delay."

Sinatra Almost Hit By Runaway Truck

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27 (AP)—A runaway truck narrowly missed Frank Sinatra today.

Sinatra said he had just left the state building where he testified before a legislative committee and had driven less than half a mile.

"Suddenly, I heard men shouting and then saw this truck with no driver in it coming crazily down the hill. It missed our car by seven or eight feet, then veered off and crashed into a construction shed," he said.

"I should have stayed in bed." There were no injuries.

U.S. Delays Resolution In Assembly

Way May Be Left Open For Canada To Submit Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—American efforts to produce a middle-way resolution to solve the Israeli-Egyptian crisis bogged down today.

An American source hinted strongly there might not be a U.S. resolution. This would leave the way open for Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson to introduce formally a compromise plan.

The 80-nation Assembly twice called off debate on the Middle East for lack of speakers as numerous conferences were held at the U.N. and in Washington.

U.S. delegation sources said yesterday that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge hoped to have a resolution ready today. The delegation admitted during the afternoon, however, that it would not appear before tomorrow at the earliest.

Diplomats in touch with the negotiations said there were objections to the American suggestions from both sides. They gave this picture of the situation:

A tentative draft of the U.S. resolution contained a provision noting the failure of Israel to withdraw from Sharm el Sheikh and the Gaza Strip. The Arabs were insisting this section must contain a condemnation of Israel for not withdrawing.

The American draft circulated here gave Israel three days to withdraw from the disputed areas. If Israel did not withdraw, the suggested text called on U.N. members to refrain from giving assistance to Israel. The Arabs were insisting that the resolution must provide specifically that if Israel has not withdrawn completely within three days economic financial and military sanctions would be imposed on Israel automatically.

Bowman Wins Wager By Killing Two Elephants

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 27 (AP)—William Negley of San Antonio has won a $10,000 bet by killing two elephants with a bow and arrow.

The oilman's wife said she received a cable from her husband in the Belgian Congo saying, "Killed two elephants according to wager."

Negley bet $1,000 to $10,000 with William K. Carpenter, Wilmington, Del., that he could kill an elephant with a bow and arrow.

Negley, 42, had a special bow with a 102-pound pull made for the expedition he started Feb. 9. The bow shoots 33-inch arrows tipped with hand-sharpened heads.

"Thefts For Thrills" List Grows Longer

SHARON, Pa., Feb. 27 (AP)—Some 200 teen-age boys and girls may be involved in "shoplifting for thrills" in this southwestern Pennsylvania community where merchants report the disappearance of some $100,000 worth of goods in the past year.

Police Chief John Whitmore of Hickory Township, said today the list of names grows daily with the interrogation of youngsters. So far 42 youths have been questioned, but no charges have been filed.

Whitmore said inventories at three stores in the Hickory Plaza shopping center showed losses totalling $79,000 and another store reported a $35,000 loss.

Mollet Favors Joint Western Mideast Policy

FRANKIE TESTIFIES—Frank Sinatra tells a California investigating committee at Los Angeles that he remained in his automobile during the famous "wrong door" apartment raid aimed at Marilyn Monroe. His testimony was contradicted by a private detective who said of Sinatra's account: "Almost all of his statements as I recall were false." (Story at bottom of page) (AP Photofax)

Talks Extended By Eisenhower, French Leader

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—French Premier Guy Mollet said today he has proposed to President Eisenhower that the West devise a "joint and long-range policy" to safeguard their common interests in the Middle East.

Such a policy, he said, would aim particularly to block Egyptian as well as Soviet Communist designs on the Arab world.

Mollet reported this development in a speech to the National Press Club here on what was to have been the last day of his harmony conference with Eisenhower.

Before he spoke, however, the President and Mollet agreed to extend their talks for another 24 hours, evidently with the aim of taking up again tomorrow morning the latest developments in the Israeli troop withdrawal crisis.

Communique Expected

Tomorrow's session is due to be followed by the issuance of a communique which is expected to reflect a considerable restoration of French - American cooperation which was shattered last fall when the United States denounced the French-British attack on Egypt.

Mollet told his press club audience he thinks Israel was entitled to a definite settlement of its frontiers with the Arab states and a guarantee of its territorial integrity. He also endorsed the concept of a guarantee for free passage of Israeli ships through the Strait of Tiran into the Gulf of Aqaba.

He described Israel's October attack on Egypt as an exercise of the "elementary right of self-defense" and declared, "I refuse to brand this state as an aggressor."

Ike's Reaction Not Indicated

He presumably expressed these views in his talks with the President yesterday and today, though he did not give any indication of Eisenhower's reaction. The President's position has been that Israel had no right to attack Egypt and therefore is obligated to withdraw its troops from the Gulf of Aqaba area and the Gaza Strip in compliance with United Nations resolutions.

Mollet also lashed out vigorously at Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser whom he accused in effect of using "blackmail" against the West, through control of the Suez Canal, in order to advance his purpose of gaining the leadership of the Arab world.

Rights Program Wins Approval Of House Group

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — A House Judiciary subcommittee, taking quick advantage of its first opportunity, today approved President Eisenhower's civil rights program.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Celler (D-NY), finished its hearings yesterday and drafted its bill today in two hours of fast work behind closed doors.

However, the question of whether Congress will pass civil rights legislation at this session remained, as usual, up to the Senate. A Southern filibuster — unlimited debate — is considered a certainty if a bill ever reaches the Senate floor.

The full House Judiciary Committee is to act on the legislation next week. The House Rules Committee would then be called on to give it clearance to the House floor. Southern opposition may be expected in the Rules Committee.

However, predictions were that the Rules Committee would give it clearance eventually. Rep. Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass), House minority leader, predicted yesterday that the House could take up the bill about March 15 and pass it in two days.

This would put the legislation more than four months ahead of its schedule last year. In 1956 the House passed a bill July 23, but Congress adjourned four days later without the Senate taking action.

A Senate Judiciary subcommittee is to wind up hearings on civil rights legislation March 5. Approval would send it to the full Judiciary Committee, which is headed by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), an opponent of such legislation.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), the Senate minority leader, said yesterday the Senate would pass civil rights legislation this session and said he hoped for a vote before the Easter recess beginning April 18. Others were not so sure.

Queen Of 1956 Illinois Dieters Shed 145 Pounds

CHICAGO, Feb. 27 (AP) — A 31-year-old woman who shed 145½ pounds in 1956 reigned today as the queen of Illinois dieters.

Miss Helen Gernenz of suburban Markham was given the title yesterday by TOPS—Take Off Pounds Sensibly—an organization of overweight women, at its annual recognition day dinner.

A hefty 373 pounds when she joined TOPS about a year ago, Miss Gernenz now is down to 217 and a fraction by sticking to a 1,000 calorie diet. Her top weight before joining TOPS was 385 pounds.

Ironically, Miss Gernenz is employed as a cook in a restaurant. She says she nibbles "only once in a while" and "never licks the spoon." She rides a bicycle to work.

Agreement On Formula Is Disclosed

Details Kept Secret Until Announcement In United Nations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — The United States, France and Israel agreed tonight on a formula for prompt withdrawal of Israeli troops from two disputed Middle East areas and their replacement indefinitely by United Nations forces.

The agreement was disclosed after a day of urgent talks involving Secretary of State Dulles, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir and Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban.

Details of the agreement, which apparently breaks a weeks-long deadlock, were kept secret pending an expected formal announcement in the United Nations, possibly tomorrow.

However, it was learned that orders would go out shortly to the Israeli troops to evacuate the Gaza Strip and Sahrm el Sheikh, which commands the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba.

U. N. Troops To Move In

Further, the plan was said to call for replacement of these troops with U. N. Emergency Force soldiers who would remain until the Egypt-Israel dispute quieted down.

This was a key position. Israel has insisted that the Gaza Strip must not be turned back to Egypt. Israeli officials were reported satisfied that this would not happen.

The agreement in effect appeared to mean Israeli compliance with two Feb. 2 U.N. resolutions sponsored by the United States. The first called for prompt Israeli withdrawal beyond the 1949 truce lines. The second ordered UNEF troops into the areas evacuated by the Israelis.

It was not clear, however, whether a new interpretation would have to be made of the status of UNEF troops. U.N.Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold has ruled that, under the Feb. 2 resolution, the UNEF is in Egypt at the invitation of Egypt. Under that interpretation the U.N. police could simply accept Gaza from Israel and hand it over to Egypt if Egypt so desired.

New Interpretation Expected

Indications that Israel officials feel that this would not happen pointed to an expected new interpretation that U.N. police should stay in Gaza until the situation eases up. The Israelis fear commando raids from Egyptian bases in Gaza.

In the Gulf of Aqaba, it was understood, the formula called for other nations to join the United States in assuring free Israeli passage.

Eban was asked tonight whether he was ready to announce agreement. He replied simply:

"As a result of discussions in Washington over the last few days the hope of an early solution is now much stronger. The embassy will remain in contact with the State Department tomorrow."

Supplies Flown To Flood Area

[By The Associated Press]

An S.O.S. for emergency supplies sent helicopters Wednesday with food and blankets for residents of the flooded little town of Wilson Creek, Wash.

One helicopter flew 110 miles from Spokane and the other from Larson Air Force base with provisions for 52 residents who took refuge in a schoolhouse in the central Washington town.

The village of 350 appeared hardest hit from floods that struck central Washington and southern Idaho Tuesday and Wednesday.

Warm weather and rains combined to send streams over their banks in widely scattered areas of the Pacific Northwest.

The main damage appeared to be to bridges and roads in some areas. Rampant streams sprang up in some coulees of north-central Washington that normally are dry.

A helicopter flew 110 miles west from Spokane to take provisions, including baby food, to the group in the Wilson Creek school, which stands high and dry on an expansive slope behind the inundated town. Most of the residents evacuated their homes Tuesday night after the Crab Creek engulfed the town with water several feet deep. Some were removed from roofs in boats.

Sinatra's 'Wrong Door' Raid Testimony Contradicted By Detective At Inquiry

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27 (AP)—A private detective told a State Senate inquiry Joe DiMaggio and Frank Sinatra engaged his office for the purpose of trying to catch Marilyn Monroe in a compromising situation.

Philip Irwin added, however, no such evidence ever developed from three weeks' of "undercover surveillance."

Irwin, 24, also told the legislators he was beaten up by six men after a story appeared in Confidential magazine about the famed wrong door raid on an apartment where Miss Monroe was supposed to be.

Asked by committee counsel if Sinatra had directed the assault, Irwin replied:

"No, I don't know of any connection between the beatings and Mr. Sinatra."

However, under examination, he told the hearing: "I fear Mr. Sinatra very much. I have fear of getting beat up or something more drastic."

Irwin said when the article appeared in the September 1955 issue of Confidential he made an appointment to visit Sinatra on a movie set.

"I wanted to convince him that I had nothing to do with the sale of the article," Irwin said. "I told him that I thought my boss, Barney Ruditsky, had sold the article to the magazine. I believe Sinatra was of the same opinion."

Irwin said a short stocky fellow took him to Sinatra's set and then escorted them away.

"I don't know who he was or who he worked for, but he told me the person who sold the story could be bumped off for $500," Irwin said.

Earlier, Irwin and Sinatra differed on details of the raid on Marilyn's apartment, and a senator said: "One or the other could very easily face perjury charges."

The crooner and the detective sang their different tunes before a committee of three state senators. The senators opened a hearing on among other things, whether private detectives sell their information to scandal magazines.

Sinatra testified he sat outside in his car during a raid by former baseball star Joe DiMaggio and private detectives the night of Nov. 5, 1954, at an apartment house where DiMaggio's ex-wife, Marilyn Monroe lived.

But private detective Irwin testified Sinatra, too, participated.

Close Vote Forecast

The bipartisan Senate leadership predicted the vote on Russell's amendment would be close. "But I think it will be defeated," Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP leader, added.

Sen. Bush (R-Conn), supporting the resolution, deplored what he called "savage and intemperate attacks" on Secretary of State Dulles as well as "what have appeared to be tactics of delay."

Sinatra Almost Hit By Runaway Truck

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27 (AP)—A runaway truck narrowly missed Frank Sinatra today.

Sinatra said he had just left the state building where he testified before a legislative committee and had driven less than half a mile.

"Suddenly, I heard men shouting and then saw this truck with no driver in it coming crazily down the hill. It missed our car by seven or eight feet, then veered off and crashed into a construction shed," he said.

"I should have stayed in bed." There were no injuries.

U.S. Delays Resolution In Assembly

Way May Be Left Open For Canada To Submit Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Feb. 27 (AP)—American efforts to produce a middle-way resolution to solve the Israeli-Egyptian crisis bogged down today.

An American source hinted strongly there might not be a U.S. resolution. This would leave the way open for Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson to introduce formally a compromise plan.

The 80-nation Assembly twice called off debate on the Middle East for lack of speakers as numerous conferences were held at the U.N. and in Washington.

U.S. delegation sources said yesterday that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge hoped to have a resolution ready today. The delegation admitted during the afternoon, however, that it would not appear before tomorrow at the earliest.

Diplomats in touch with the negotiations said there were objections to the American suggestions from both sides. They gave this picture of the situation:

A tentative draft of the U.S. resolution contained a provision noting the failure of Israel to withdraw from Sharm el Sheikh and the Gaza Strip. The Arabs were insisting this section must contain a condemnation of Israel for not withdrawing.

The American draft circulated here gave Israel three days to withdraw from the disputed areas. If Israel did not withdraw, the suggested text called on U.N. members to refrain from giving assistance to Israel. The Arabs were insisting that the resolution must provide specifically that if Israel has not withdrawn completely within three days economic financial and military sanctions would be imposed on Israel automatically.

Bowman Wins Wager By Killing Two Elephants

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 27 (AP)—William Negley of San Antonio has won a $10,000 bet by killing two elephants with a bow and arrow.

The oilman's wife said she received a cable from her husband in the Belgian Congo saying, "Killed two elephants according to wager."

Negley bet $1,000 to $10,000 with William K. Carpenter, Wilmington, Del., that he could kill an elephant with a bow and arrow.

Negley, 42, had a special bow with a 102-pound pull made for the expedition he started Feb. 9. The bow shoots 33-inch arrows tipped with hand-sharpened heads.

"Thefts For Thrills" List Grows Longer

SHARON, Pa., Feb. 27 (AP)—Some 200 teen-age boys and girls may be involved in "shoplifting for thrills" in this southwestern Pennsylvania community where merchants report the disappearance of some $100,000 worth of goods in the past year.

Police Chief John Whitmore of Hickory Township, said today the list of names grows daily with the interrogation of youngsters. So far 42 youths have been questioned, but no charges have been filed.

Whitmore said inventories at three stores in the Hickory Plaza shopping center showed losses totalling $79,000 and another store reported a $35,000 loss.

Mollet Favors Joint Western Mideast Policy

FRANKIE TESTIFIES—Frank Sinatra tells a California investigating committee at Los Angeles that he remained in his automobile during the famous "wrong door" apartment raid aimed at Marilyn Monroe. His testimony was contradicted by a private detective who said of Sinatra's account: "Almost all of his statements as I recall were false." (Story at bottom of page) (AP Photofax)

Talks Extended By Eisenhower, French Leader

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—French Premier Guy Mollet said today he has proposed to President Eisenhower that the West devise a "joint and long-range policy" to safeguard their common interests in the Middle East.

Such a policy, he said, would aim particularly to block Egyptian as well as Soviet Communist designs on the Arab world.

Mollet reported this development in a speech to the National Press Club here on what was to have been the last day of his harmony conference with Eisenhower.

Before he spoke, however, the President and Mollet agreed to extend their talks for another 24 hours, evidently with the aim of taking up again tomorrow morning the latest developments in the Israeli troop withdrawal crisis.

Communique Expected

Tomorrow's session is due to be followed by the issuance of a communique which is expected to reflect a considerable restoration of French - American cooperation which was shattered last fall when the United States denounced the French-British attack on Egypt.

Mollet told his press club audience he thinks Israel was entitled to a definite settlement of its frontiers with the Arab states and a guarantee of its territorial integrity. He also endorsed the concept of a guarantee for free passage of Israeli ships through the Strait of Tiran into the Gulf of Aqaba.

He described Israel's October attack on Egypt as an exercise of the "elementary right of self-defense" and declared, "I refuse to brand this state as an aggressor."

Ike's Reaction Not Indicated

He presumably expressed these views in his talks with the President yesterday and today, though he did not give any indication of Eisenhower's reaction. The President's position has been that Israel had no right to attack Egypt and therefore is obligated to withdraw its troops from the Gulf of Aqaba area and the Gaza Strip in compliance with United Nations resolutions.

Mollet also lashed out vigorously at Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser whom he accused in effect of using "blackmail" against the West, through control of the Suez Canal, in order to advance his purpose of gaining the leadership of the Arab world.

Rights Program Wins Approval Of House Group

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—A House Judiciary subcommittee, taking quick advantage of its first opportunity, today approved President Eisenhower's civil rights program.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Celler (D-NY), finished its hearings yesterday and drafted its bill today in two hours of fast work behind closed doors.

However, the question of whether Congress will pass civil rights legislation at this session remained, as usual, up to the Senate. A Southern filibuster — unlimited debate — is considered a certainty if a bill ever reaches the Senate floor.

The full House Judiciary Committee is to act on the legislation next week. The House Rules Committee would then be called on to give it clearance to the House floor. Southern opposition may be expected in the Rules Committee.

However, predictions were that the Rules Committee would give it clearance eventually. Rep. Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass), House minority leader, predicted yesterday that the House could take up the bill about March 15 and pass it in two days.

This would put the legislation more than four months ahead of its schedule last year. In 1956 the House passed a bill July 23, but Congress adjourned four days later without the Senate taking action.

A Senate Judiciary subcommittee is to wind up hearings on civil rights legislation March 5. Approval would send it to the full Judiciary Committee, which is headed by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), an opponent of such legislation.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), the Senate minority leader, said yesterday the Senate would pass civil rights legislation this session and said he hoped for a vote before the Easter recess beginning April 18. Others were not so sure.

Queen Of 1956 Illinois Dieters Shed 145 Pounds

CHICAGO, Feb. 27 (AP) — A 31-year-old woman who shed 145½ pounds in 1956 reigned today as the queen of Illinois dieters.

Miss Helen Gernenz of suburban Markham was given the title yesterday by TOPS—Take Off Pounds Sensibly—an organization of overweight women, at its annual recognition day dinner.

A hefty 373 pounds when she joined TOPS about a year ago, Miss Gernenz now is down to 217 and a fraction by sticking to a 1,000 calorie diet. Her top weight before joining TOPS was 385 pounds.

Ironically, Miss Gernenz is employed as a cook in a restaurant. She says she nibbles "only once in a while" and "never licks the spoon." She rides a bicycle to work.

Agreement On Formula Is Disclosed

Details Kept Secret Until Announcement In United Nations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — The United States, France and Israel agreed tonight on a formula for prompt withdrawal of Israeli troops from two disputed Middle East areas and their replacement indefinitely by United Nations forces.

The agreement was disclosed after a day of urgent talks involving Secretary of State Dulles, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir and Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban.

Details of the agreement, which apparently breaks a weeks-long deadlock, were kept secret pending an expected formal announcement in the United Nations, possibly tomorrow.

However, it was learned that orders would go out shortly to the Israeli troops to evacuate the Gaza Strip and Sahrm el Sheikh, which commands the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba.

U. N. Troops To Move In

Further, the plan was said to call for replacement of these troops with U. N. Emergency Force soldiers who would remain until the Egypt-Israel dispute quieted down.

This was a key position. Israel has insisted that the Gaza Strip must not be turned back to Egypt. Israeli officials were reported satisfied that this would not happen.

The agreement in effect appeared to mean Israeli compliance with two Feb. 2 U.N. resolutions sponsored by the United States. The first called for prompt Israeli withdrawal beyond the 1949 truce lines. The second ordered UNEF troops into the areas evacuated by the Israelis.

It was not clear, however, whether a new interpretation would have to be made of the status of UNEF troops. U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold has ruled that, under the Feb. 2 resolution, the UNEF is in Egypt at the invitation of Egypt. Under that interpretation the U.N. police could simply accept Gaza from Israel and hand it over to Egypt if Egypt so desired.

New Interpretation Expected

Indications that Israel officials feel that this would not happen pointed to an expected new interpretation that U.N. police should stay in Gaza until the situation eases up. The Israelis fear commando raids from Egyptian bases in Gaza.

In the Gulf of Aqaba, it was understood, the formula called for other nations to join the United States in assuring free Israeli passage.

Eban was asked tonight whether he was ready to announce agreement. He replied simply:

"As a result of discussions in Washington over the last few days the hope of an early solution is now much stronger. The embassy will remain in contact with the State Department tomorrow."

Supplies Flown To Flood Area

[By The Associated Press]

An S.O.S. for emergency supplies sent helicopters Wednesday with food and blankets for residents of the flooded little town of Wilson Creek, Wash.

One helicopter flew 110 miles from Spokane and the other from Larson Air Force base with provisions for 52 residents who took refuge in a schoolhouse in the central Washington town.

The village of 350 appeared hardest hit from floods that struck central Washington and southern Idaho Tuesday and Wednesday.

Warm weather and rains combined to send streams over their banks in widely scattered areas of the Pacific Northwest.

The main damage appeared to be to bridges and roads in some areas. Rampant streams sprang up in some coulees of north-central Washington that normally are dry.

A helicopter flew 110 miles west from Spokane to take provisions, including baby food, to the group in the Wilson Creek school, which stands high and dry on an expansive slope behind the inundated town. Most of the residents evacuated their homes Tuesday night after the Crab Creek engulfed the town with water several feet deep. Some were removed from roofs in boats.

Sinatra's 'Wrong Door' Raid Testimony Contradicted By Detective At Inquiry

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27 (AP)—A private detective told a State Senate inquiry Joe DiMaggio and Frank Sinatra engaged his office for the purpose of trying to catch Marilyn Monroe in a compromising situation.

Philip Irwin added, however, no such evidence ever developed from three weeks' of "undercover surveillance."

Irwin, 24, also told the legislators he was beaten up by six men after a story appeared in Confidential magazine about the famed wrong door raid on an apartment where Miss Monroe was supposed to be.

Asked by committee counsel if Sinatra had directed the assault, Irwin replied:

"No, I don't know of any connection between the beatings and Mr. Sinatra."

However, under examination, he told the hearing: "I fear Mr. Sinatra very much. I have fear of getting beat up or something more drastic."

Irwin said when the article appeared in the September 1955 issue of Confidential he made an appointment to visit Sinatra on a movie set.

"I wanted to convince him that I had nothing to do with the sale of the article," Irwin said. "I told him that I thought my boss, Barney Ruditsky, had sold the article to the magazine. I believe Sinatra was of the same opinion."

Irwin said a short stocky fellow took him to Sinatra's set and then escorted them away.

"I don't know who he was or who he worked for, but he told me the person who sold the story could be bumped off for $500," Irwin said.

Earlier, Irwin and Sinatra differed on details of the raid on Marilyn's apartment, and a senator said: "One or the other could very easily face perjury charges."

The crooner and the detective sang their different tunes before a committee of three state senators. The senators opened a hearing on among other things, whether private detectives sell their information to scandal magazines.

Sinatra testified he sat outside in his car during a raid by former baseball star Joe DiMaggio and private detectives the night of Nov. 5, 1954, at an apartment house where DiMaggio's ex-wife, Marilyn Monroe lived.

But private detective Irwin testified Sinatra, too, participated.

Tallahassee Judge Rules Trio Violated Bus Seat Ordinance

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 27 (AP)—Three university students — two Negro and one white—were convicted in Municipal Court today of violating Tallahassee's unique bus seat assignment ordinance.

Municipal Judge John Rudd adjudged the three guilty after overruling a defense motion for a verdict of acquittal on the ground the seating ordinance was unconstitutional.

Sentencing of the three was postponed until Monday when the court will hear a motion for a new trial. Maximum penalty is 60 days in jail and a $500 fine.

Defendants in the case are Joseph Spagna of St. Petersburg, a white student at Florida State University; and Leonard D. Speed and Johnny Herndon, students at Florida A&M University for Negroes.

Francisco Rodriguez of Tampa, attorney for the students, argued the ordinance was unconstitutional because it set up an arbitrary classification of persons using public transportation and violated the equal rights amendment to the federal constitution.

"It is a mere subterfuge to perpetuate the un-American practice of segregation," Rodriguez declared.

City Solicitor Edward J. Hill told the court the city had a legal right to set up a seat-numbering arrangement for assignment of passengers and that bus drivers enforced these requirements in a reasonably prudent manner.

Hill told the court that the Pullman Co., assigned seats and that airlines did so on certain occasions. He said the city had a similar right.

During the trial, the judge ordered two television cameramen to destroy film made of witnesses.

"I believe in freedom of the press, but at the same time we must uphold the dignity of the court and there will be no commercializing on a matter of such important as this," he said.

McKeldin Backs Move To Cancel River Compact

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 27 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin of Maryland gave his backing today to proceeding with a legislative declaration putting an end to the Potomac River contract with Virginia.

Del. Simpkins (D-Somerset), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, promptly scheduled a hearing for March 12 on the bill which would assert Maryland's withdrawal from the compact of 1785.

Simpkins said the governor's sanction and support was promised him and three sponsors of the bill at a meeting with William Gresham, an assistant of the executive.

The governor, Gresham, the sponsor and John P. Tawes, chairman of the Department of Tidewater Fisheries, have been discussing for more than a week whether to push ahead with the bill.

There has been legal doubt expressed that one state alone may withdraw from the compact which for 172 years has granted equal fishing rights in the river to residents of Maryland and Virginia. Each state has the right to enforce regulations.

Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert has advised that while the question of withdrawal by one state may be doubtful, it probably would have to be put directly to the Supreme Court for settlement.

Maryland's intent in seeking such an opinion would be to take over sole control of the river which it owns.

Survey Says:

Aid From U.S. Might Have Made Egypt Model Nation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—A survey made public tonight by a special Senate committee says Egypt might today be "a model for the Middle East" had that country been offered "meaningful" U. S. economic aid.

The survey, by the Center for International Studies at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was commissioned by a special Senate group set up to review the foreign aid program.

Submitted by Max F. Millikan, director, the report declares that an effective program of foreign economic aid is vital to the search for peace.

However, another committee-financed report, made public simultaneously, argues that "private investment, not government aid, is the most effective way of helping other peoples to improve their levels of living."

This second report was by the American Enterprise Assn., Inc., and submitted by William J. Baroody, executive vice president.

The Millikan study, in advocating government assistance to underdeveloped nations, asserts:

"If, at the time of the Naguib revolt, or even during the early days of Nasser, America had made a serious offer to help Egypt tackle her internal economic problems on a meaningful scale, then it is at least conceivable that Egypt would by now be a model for the Middle East."

In July, 1952, a group of young Egyptian army officers headed by Gen. Mohammed Naguib forced the abdication of Egypt's King Farouk. The announced purpose of the coup was to clean out corruption in the government. Col. Gamal Nasser, a leader of the revolt, took over leadership of the government from Naguib in 1954 and later was named president.

UMW Is Sued For 1½ Million

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers were accused of strike-breaking today in a 1½ million dollar federal court damage suit.

The action was started by Arthur Walters and the East Coast Shipping Corp., a stevedoring firm. It involves a shipping venture which encountered labor trouble last December.

Defendants are Lewis, his union and American Coal Shipping Inc., a 50-million-dollar coal exporting firm set up by the UMW, some big coal producers and several coal-carrying railroads.

American coal was intended to spur coal shipments to Europe. It planned to corral and operate a number of liberty ships.

The complaint charges that American Coal contracted with East Coast last Dec. 6 to operate 31 colliers out of Hampton Roads, Va. However, American was accused of provoking a strike of AFL-CIO unions by failing to make valid contracts with them.

East Coast alleged breach of contract and said it lost a substantial sum of money as a result.

Ship's Crew Safe

HONG KONG, Feb. 27 (AP)—The South China Morning Post said today the captain and crew of the British freighter Hydralock were safe in Communist China.

The ship and its crew of 31 were last heard from two days ago when it called for help. Shipping circles expressed belief the ship and crew were lost.

Jet With Throttle Stuck Wide Open Is Landed Safely

LARSON AIR FORCE BASE, Wash., Feb. 27 (AP)—Capt. William Emrick, the throttle of his jet plane jammed open, landed safely but spectacularly at this central Washington base last night.

Emerick discovered his plight on a flight north from McClellan (Calif.) Air Force Base.

Approaching this base, he circled to exhaust his fuel. But he was still traveling nearly 600 miles an hour, he said, when he started in.

He put down his flaps and landing gear, and 2,000 feet from the runway intentionally "flamed out" to glide down. Hitting the runway he threw out a drag parachute and stopped just before reaching the runway's far end.

He was flying an RF84F.

Fire Cripples Town; Federal Aid Sought

BUTLER, N.J., Feb. 27 (AP)—An appeal to President Eisenhower to declare this fire-crippled town a disaster area was made today by four Morris County political leaders.

In a telegram to the White House asking federal aid the men termed the situation "critical" following a five-million-dollar fire yesterday that has thrown a quarter of the town's population out of work.

Some 1,100 of Butler's 4,400 residents were employed at the Pequanoc Rubber Co. and the parent American Hard Rubber Co. which were crippled by the fire.

The fire raged out of control for five hours destroying the Pequanoc plant and damaging the power plant that fed the larger factory.

Budd E. Pollak, Pequanoc plant superintendent, estimated damage at five million dollars.

W.Va. Forestry Camp Improvements Urged

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 27 (AP)—A Senate committee strongly urged today additional funds for new buildings and improved facilities at the West Virginia Forestry Camp near Davis in Tucker County.

The camp was established in the late summer of 1956 in the wake of 1955 and 1956 Legislative acts for youthful law breakers amenable to discipline and supervision outside institutions.

The Senate's Penitentiary Committee, headed by Sen. Mitchell (D-McDowell), found "a very satisfactory working arrangement between the State Board of Control and the Conservation Commission, but they are sadly lacking funds" to achieve the ultimate camp goal.

The Board of Control generally looks after the physical welfare of the 78 youths at the camp. The Conservation Department supervises their work in the big Blackwater Falls State Park development under way nearby.

and pullout would by the force of gravity pull the jammed gear into locking position. He had fuel for about nine hours of flying when he took off from Milwaukee.

Capital flew T. Z. Varney, 41, of Washington, its chief inspector, and four hydraulic maintenance men to the side of the ship from Washington.

"We told them how to put the landing gear down and which valv to turn," Varney said. The instructions were radioed from Varney's Viscount to the Constellation as the two ships circled nearby Lake Erie.

The Constellation landed at Willow Run at 6:04 p.m.

W.Va. House Votes To Create New Agencies

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 27 (AP)—The House gave its unanimous approval today to a pair of bills to create two new major departments of state government in West Virginia.

The bills would set up a department of mental health to take over operation of the State's mental hospitals and a department of finance and administration, into which would be consolidated functions now performed by several agencies.

Both measures now go to the Senate. The fiscal reorganization bill was passed earlier by the Senate, but goes back there for action on a House amendment. The mental health bill has not been acted upon by the Senate.

The department of mental health would be headed by a psychiatrist with executive and administrative experience as director and he would be paid $20,000 a year. The measure contains provisions setting forth the director's authority to make regulations covering commitment and release of mental patients.

With a margin of two votes above the required two-thirds elected majority, the House adopted finally a resolution for a vote in the 1958 general election on a constitutional amendment. The vote will be on the question of providing for appointment of a state school superintendent, who is now elected, by the State Board of Education.

Sir Harold Scott, once the head of London's Scotland Yard, takes a busman's holiday now that he is retired as one of the world's foremost detectives. He says he likes to "poke around" London's waterfront, looking for crime.

Milk Strike Break Seen

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP) — A three-day tristate milk strike showed signs of breaking up today and under pressure of steel-helmeted state police squads.

State police emergency patrols in New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey sought to curb strike violence. Trucks have been shot up, milk dumped and depots picketed.

In Alleghany, N.Y., a local official of the striking dairymen's organization predicted the strike would be over in western New York by tomorrow. He said:

"When the troopers moved in and escorted the trucks into the plants, that just about cleaned us up."

Squads of state police moved into the area during the day. At one plant alone, nine pickets found themselves faced with 22 troopers, wearing steel helmets and carrying night sticks.

In Boonville, N.Y., five state police cars patrolled village streets. There have been fist-fights, gun shots and arrests there.

Pennsylvania State Police Commissioner Earl J. Henry ordered troopers on emergency highway patrol after trucks were stopped and kerosene thrown into the milk.

New Jersey also put 200 extra troopers on highway patrol in four counties where more than 300 pickets were active.

The action was started by Arthur Walters and the East Coast Shipping Corp., a stevedoring firm. It involves a shipping venture which encountered labor trouble last December.

Defendants are Lewis, his union and American Coal Shipping Inc., a 50-million-dollar coal exporting firm set up by the UMW, some big coal producers and several coal-carrying railroads.

American coal was intended to spur coal shipments to Europe. It planned to corral and operate a number of liberty ships.

The complaint charges that American Coal contracted with East Coast last Dec. 6 to operate 31 colliers out of Hampton Roads, Va. However, American was accused of provoking a strike of AFL-CIO unions by failing to make valid contracts with them.

East Coast alleged breach of contract and said it lost a substantial sum of money as a result.

Ship's Crew Safe

HONG KONG, Feb. 27 (AP)—The South China Morning Post said today the captain and crew of the British freighter Hydralock were safe in Communist China.

The ship and its crew of 31 were last heard from two days ago when it called for help. Shipping circles expressed belief the ship and crew were lost.

Jet With Throttle Stuck Wide Open Is Landed Safely

LARSON AIR FORCE BASE, Wash., Feb. 27 (AP)—Capt. William Emrick, the throttle of his jet plane jammed open, landed safely but spectacularly at this central Washington base last night.

Emerick discovered his plight on a flight north from McClellan (Calif.) Air Force Base.

Approaching this base, he circled to exhaust his fuel. But he was still traveling nearly 600 miles an hour, he said, when he started in.

He put down his flaps and landing gear, and 2,000 feet from the runway intentionally "flamed out" to glide down. Hitting the runway he threw out a drag parachute and stopped just before reaching the runway's far end.

He was flying an RF84F.

Fire Cripples Town; Federal Aid Sought

BUTLER, N.J., Feb. 27 (AP)—An appeal to President Eisenhower to declare this fire-crippled town a disaster area was made today by four Morris County political leaders.

In a telegram to the White House asking federal aid the men termed the situation "critical" following a five-million-dollar fire yesterday that has thrown a quarter of the town's population out of work.

Some 1,100 of Butler's 4,400 residents were employed at the Pequanoc Rubber Co. and the parent American Hard Rubber Co. which were crippled by the fire.

The fire raged out of control for five hours destroying the Pequanoc plant and damaging the power plant that fed the larger factory.

Budd E. Pollak, Pequanoc plant superintendent, estimated damage at five million dollars.

W.Va. Forestry Camp Improvements Urged

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 27 (AP)—A Senate committee strongly urged today additional funds for new buildings and improved facilities at the West Virginia Forestry Camp near Davis in Tucker County.

The camp was established in the late summer of 1956 in the wake of 1955 and 1956 Legislative acts for youthful law breakers amenable to discipline and supervision outside institutions.

The Senate's Penitentiary Committee, headed by Sen. Mitchell (D-McDowell), found "a very satisfactory working arrangement between the State Board of Control and the Conservation Commission, but they are sadly lacking funds" to achieve the ultimate camp goal.

The Board of Control generally looks after the physical welfare of the 78 youths at the camp. The Conservation Department supervises their work in the big Blackwater Falls State Park development under way nearby.

Capital flew T. Z. Varney, 41, of Washington, its chief inspector, and four hydraulic maintenance men to the side of the ship from Washington.

"We told them how to put the landing gear down and which valv to turn," Varney said. The instructions were radioed from Varney's Viscount to the Constellation as the two ships circled nearby Lake Erie.

The Constellation landed at Willow Run at 6:04 p.m.

W.Va. House Votes To Create New Agencies

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 27 (AP)—The House gave its unanimous approval today to a pair of bills to create two new major departments of state government in West Virginia.

The bills would set up a department of mental health to take over operation of the State's mental hospitals and a department of finance and administration, into which would be consolidated functions now performed by several agencies.

Both measures now go to the Senate. The fiscal reorganization bill was passed earlier by the Senate, but goes back there for action on a House amendment. The mental health bill has not been acted upon by the Senate.

The department of mental health would be headed by a psychiatrist with executive and administrative experience as director and he would be paid $20,000 a year. The measure contains provisions setting forth the director's authority to make regulations covering commitment and release of mental patients.

With a margin of two votes above the required two - thirds elected majority, the House adopted finally a resolution for a vote in the 1958 general election on a constitutional amendment. The vote will be on the question of providing for appointment of a state school superintendent, who is now elected, by the State Board of Education.

Milk Strike Break Seen

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP) — A three - day tristate milk strike showed signs of breaking up today and under pressure of steel-helmeted state police squads.

State police emergency patrols in New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey sought to curb strike violence. Trucks have been shot up, milk dumped and depots picketed.

In Alleghany, N.Y., a local official of the striking dairymen's organization predicted the strike would be over in western New York by tomorrow. He said:

"When the troopers moved in and escorted the trucks into the plants, that just about cleaned us up."

Squads of state police moved into the area during the day. At one plant alone, nine pickets found themselves faced with 22 troopers, wearing steel helmets and carrying night sticks.

In Boonville, N.Y., five state police cars patrolled village streets. There have been fist-fights, gun shots and arrests there.

Pennsylvania State Police Commissioner Earl J. Henry ordered troopers on emergency highway patrol after trucks were stopped and kerosene thrown into the milk.

New Jersey also put 200 extra troopers on highway patrol in four counties where more than 300 pickets were active.

Maryland Senate Group Asked To Rule On Nursing Home Construction Aid

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 27 (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee was asked today to make a "policy decision" — whether the State should contribute to the construction cost of nursing homes to be operated by the counties or local non-profit organizations.

The question came up as the committee considered the capital improvements portion of the State Health Department's proposed budget.

Herbert G. Fritz, chief of the department's hospital services, said the nursing home construction would be a "continuing program" under which State funds would be matched by local and federal money.

The department is asking $100,000 to start the program. Fritz said the resulting $300,000 worth of construction and equipment would provide about 60 beds.

Mrs. Lillian Bricker, who operates a private nursing home at Kensington, and Ralph Hartle, who operates one at Williamsport, opposed the grant.

Mrs. Bricker said "the approach is wrong" and that the "Health Department seemingly has ignored the greatest and most economical source of care — private enterprise."

She suggested the State increase its present maximum payment of $115.50 per month for welfare patients in private homes.

"Let Maryland pay $180 per month for indigent care and the problem will quickly dissolve," she said.

She said there are 500 vacant beds available in private homes if the state will pay $6 per day.

Fritz said the homes operated by Mrs. Bricker and Hartle are excellent ones, but many of the 152 private homes licensed by his department "barely meet our minimum requirements."

He said the State Planning Commission has estimated a shortage of 2,600 beds, "not counting the homes on the bottom of our list."

Fritz said construction of new homes would enable the State's chronic disease hospitals to release many patients occupying expensive beds for simple nursing care.

He said the program would not displace "any good private nursing homes."

The jack rabbit received its name from its long ears which were thought to resemble those of a jackass.

Six Servicemen And Ex-GI Held For Robberies

BEL AIR, Md., Feb. 27 (AP)—The Harford County sheriff's office said today six servicemen stationed at the Aberdeen Proving Ground and an ex-GI had been charged with a series of robberies in the county dating back to last September.

The six, members of the Army and Air Force, are in jail here. The former servicemen, Franklin L. Cogburn, 21, was arrested recently in Charleston, S. C. and was being brought here.

The group is charged with being involved in nine burglaries, with the loot of outboard motors, autos and other articles valued at about $7,000.

Cogburn faces the most charges, the sheriff's office said. Warrants accuse him of seven counts of larceny, seven of breaking and entering, and two with unauthorized use of motor vehicles.

The others charged are Earl Tucker, 24; Leland R. Brandon, 24; Richard L. Henry, 20; Dean E. Carpenter, 21; Milan Reynolds, 26; and James R. Moore, 20. Their home addresses were not available.

Deputies Ralph Pate and Lamar James, with the cooperation of criminal investigators from Aberdeen, began a probe of the men's activities earlier this month.

One job was the breaking and entering of the City Building and Loan Co. in Havre de Grace and using a truck owned by Mayor Walter McLhinney to haul away the safe.

Radio-TV Rebuffed In Election Ad Bid

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 27 (AP)—A bid by Maryland radio and television stations for a share of election advertising was turned down today by the Judiciary Committee in the House of Delegates.

The unfavorable report was given to a bill which would have required supervisors of elections to broadcast or televise as well as publish in newspapers required notices of elections and lists of candidates.

A joint committee of the House and Senate working on a revision of the State's election laws had recommended disapproval of the request by stations in Maryland. The House Judiciary Committee accepted the recommendation without discussion.

Conditioning System Contracts Awarded

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—The General Services Administration today announced award of contracts to cover design of air conditioning systems for federal buildings here and in Maryland.

The designs are to be completed by fall.

The projects, estimated costs, the firms given the design contracts and the amount of each:

Agriculture South Building, here, estimated cost $6,050,000; contract to Karsunky, Weller & Gooch, Washington, $242,000.

Government Printing Office, three buildings here, $2,000,000; Henry Adams, Inc., Baltimore, $100,000.

Post office and court house, Baltimore, $1,400,000; Henry Adams $70,000.

$3 Doctor Fee For Polio Shot Recommended

BALTIMORE, Feb. 27 (AP)—The state's top medical organization today recommended to Maryland doctors that they charge not more than $3 for a polio shot. And for large families, this price should be scaled down accordingly.

Many doctors now charge $5 a shot.

The treatment consists of a series of three shots.

The recommendation by the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland was made in preparation for the observance of "Polio V Days" from March 1 through April 15.

The drive's goal is to have every Marylander between three months and 40 years old receive his first shots of the now-plentiful Salk vaccine.

Letters have been sent to physicians by Dr. C. Reid Edwards, organization president, explaining the recommendation, drawn up by its executive committee.

Housing Survey Bill Called Unnecessary

HAGERSTOWN, Feb. 27 (AP) — Chester Delphey, head of the Washington County Commissioners, said today that if a housing survey were necessary in the county, the State Health Department could do it.

He described as unnecessary legislation in the General Assembly to authorize the commissioners to appropriate $5,000 for a survey.

A bill calling for the appropriation was introduced by Dels. William Porter and J. B. Berkson, Washington County Republicans.

Delphey said the appropriation was not asked by the commissioners, adding it wouldn't need such an authorization to spend money for such a survey.

The delegates contend there is a large number of sub-standard houses in the county.

Delphey said if the health department wants to make a survey the commissioners would help with the costs.

Popularity Forcing U. Of Md. To Raise Standards

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Feb. 27 (AP)—The president of the University of Maryland told a convocation of faculty and students today that increased enrollments are forcing the university to raise its scholastic standards.

At the same time, Dr. Wilson H. Elkins said the university must guard against excluding qualified students.

Elkins also called for maintaining "the highest quality of teaching" and for backing of extra-curricular activities, such as fraternities, sororities and other organizations "which contribute to moral, intellectual, social and physical" progress.

However, he added, the university could not recognize any group which seeks university sanction but is unwilling or unable to conform to standards set by the faculty or the board of regents.

A faculty committee presently is studying new minimum scholastic standard proposals. Its recommendations are expected to affect mostly those students who take an abnormally long time to complete degree requirements.

"In raising the minimum requirements for a large and increased enrollment," Elkins said, "we must at the same time be careful to maintain the highest quality of teaching.

"We must guard against any tendency to look upon students as mere statistics, or to assume the attitude of 'here it is, take it or leave it.'"

B&O Train Strikes, Kills Man On Bridge

GRAFTON, W. Va., Feb. 27 (AP)—Henry Melvin Haller, a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad shop employe here, was struck by an eastbound B. and O. passenger train and killed today on No. 1 bridge at the west end of the Grafton yards.

The sheriff's office said that Haller, about 60, was apparently on his way to work. He fell some 40 feet onto rocks below the bridge, the sheriff's office said.

A cow which gives 20 pounds of milk a day needs to drink about seven gallons of water.

Argentine Officials Say Peron Pro-Red, Display Documents To Back Up Charge

Editor's Note—Juan Peron was overthrown in September 1955. But he still is a political storm center in Latin America. Argentine government officials have shown reporters documents to back up charges he is masterminding a comeback from political asylum in Venezuela. This story details the picture.

By SAM SUMMERLIN and BRUCE HENDERSON

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Feb. 27 (AP)—The men who helped topple Juan Domingo Peron in September 1955 today charged he is directing a subversive Latin-American network designed to restore him to power.

They said seized documents prove that if Peron did take over again in Argentina he would advocate coexistence with communism and threaten the Western Hemisphere's anti-Communist alliance.

Authorized officials of the provisional government, who cannot be identified, showed reporters heretofore secret documents to back up their charges. Some of the documents quote Peron as saying international communism will dominate the world.

The collection included documents sent by the Argentine government in a protest to Venezuela that Peron is allowed to conduct subversive activities from his political refuge there.

Provisional President Pedro Aramburu's goal is to drive Peron out of the Western Hemisphere.

Aramburu told his country recently "that monster will never again set foot on this soil."

But Aramburu wants more than that.

He wants to get Peron far from the borders of Argentina, to halt the wave of sabotage, terrorism, and Peronista guerrilla war that has kept the country in turmoil.

Peron has denied he is conducting a long range, mastermind revolt in Argentina. He said in an interview recently that the troubles in Argentina are of the current government's own making.

Peron fled to Paraguay and later went to Panama after he was ousted as dictator. It is believed here that he left those countries for Venezuela under pressure. He is reported to have standing applications for visas in most other Latin-American republics but none has been approved, despite the tradition of political refuge in Latin America.

If he can be forced to leave Venezuela, Aramburu supporters believe he can find no refuge other than in Europe or some other distant place.

The traditional right of asylum is believed to be one reason Venezuela's President Perez Jimenez has resisted demands in his own government to expel Peron.

Some say that Perez Jimenez may be using Peron's asylum as a tool to force Argentina to silence Perez Jimenez' foes who sought refuge in Argentina.

An automobile collision last Dec. 24 unmasked the Peron plotting, officials said.

Province police, near the Bolivian border, conducted a routine check. In one car they found quantities of Peron propaganda revealing the existence of Peronist commands in Bolivia. This led to the arrest of 48 Peronista plotters in Argentina.

From that chance discovery, officials have built up this picture of Peron's machinery:

The career soldier and general who organized labor in his support as dictator, has set up command posts in Argentina, Chile, Bolivia, Paraguay, Uruguay and Brazil which he directs from Caracas.

Exiled Peronistas smuggle his orders, propaganda and money into Argentina.

The propaganda includes pamphlets, Peron's books, posters, long-play records with his speeches, and autographed photographs of him and his late wife Eva.

A network of amateur radio operators relays Peron's orders in code up and down Latin America.

Government officials claimed Peron escaped with a fortune of millions of dollars. The documents were offered as proof he has spent almost a million dollars in the terroist campaign.

The terrorism has included blowing up a powder magazine, burning crops, calling strikes, bombing a railway bridge, derailment of trains almost every day and putting ground glass in food.

The documents quoted Peron as saying of anti-Peronistas "God help them, there won't be enough trees in the republic to hang them on," if he returns to power. They quote him as saying the victory will come after millions of small fights waged every day.

The United States has taken a hands-off attitude on Peron's alleged activities. But it is known the United States is keeping a close eye on him because of U.S. interest in hemisphere peace and Argentina's economic restoration.

Cocktail Party Duds For Male Rival Rainbow

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—An aching void in every man's wardrobe was filled today. At last, men will have something decent to wear at cocktail parties.

New suits, designed especially for the cocktail circuit, made their blazing appearance at a special men's fashion show, and they can be described thusly:

Had any peacocks been around, they would have turned in their union cards. Not colorful enough.

Possibly the best way to get at this thing, which threatens to be bigger than any of us, is to attack it chronologically, in the form of these notes:

Arrived early. Noted approvingly that a runway was set up just like a woman's fashion show. Noted disapprovingly that women reporters seemed to outnumber us men. Heavens to Harper's Bazaar, is nothing sacred?

Studied document handed out by press agent. Found show was sponsored by Hess Brothers of Allentown, Pa. Didn't know Allentown was a sartorial hotbed. Lots of quotes from Max Hess, the store's president. His contention: Foreign diplomats always dress up for cocktails, so why don't we?

Young lady from store came by. Said her name was Ruth Brooker. "The idea, we feel, is to startle," she said. "Men are so conventional in dress. These are eyebrow raisers. Holy gee!"

Young man from store advanced to microphone. Said his name was Gerry Golden, fashion director for Hess. Said he and Max Hess went all over Europe attending fashion shows. "You could always spot the Americans at these," Golden said. "They had on the plain dark suits."

Well, Hess brooded over this. Convinced men's clothes needed more zip. Sports clothes, of course, coming along okay, but what about the cocktail hour? Eureka, or its Italian equivalent! Suits were designed by Brioni of Rome.

Decks are clear for action now. Here come the men!

Notes confused here. Hard to tell what goes with what purple shoes, coats with green lining, ruffled shirts, Ascot ties, pastel colors.

Best stick with the official description. Take that little number known as sansovino.

Double-breasted sansovino blue wool jacket with plum velvet collar to match the vest. Slim trousers of mohair are deep irridescent blue. Shirt is blue and white striped with round tabbed white collar and tie is irridescent pure silk. Shoes are irridescent blue with sansovino blue tailored bow. Whole thing complete will be knocked down at $425.

Tried to find eyebrows. Found they had merged with hairline. Had moment of panic. Remember how they laughed at Harry Truman in Key West and those loud sports shirts? Now everybody is wearing them.

Golden called all the models on runway for final dazzling display of color. Looked at Golden for reassurance. Had on plain dark suit. American as all get-out.

Show over. Dazedly made way to $7 raincoat and $1.95 rain hat. Tried to adjust eyebrows. Holy gee!

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (INS)—'Strawdinary thing happened to yours truly the other night as, with faithful hound at heel, deer-stalked hat set firmly on head, and cloak making rustling sounds through the murkey mews, I strode my nightly constitutional.

There at my feet, as if fallen abruptly from on high, lay a newspaper. I fetched it to the nearest lamppost, and by its feeble rays saw something which — not comprehended at first — eventually caused eye-popping of the first order.

The newspaper was dated February 28, 1974.

Only the steel of a nerve which won flattering mentions on several fronts, including the Cold Front, restrained and crushed the desire to turn to the racing results, and to the features to see how Wallis Simpson made out. The eye was forced to read the lead story on page 1, and it must be said to have been revealing. But for cursed luck—a vagrant wind soon snatched the paper from hand and blew it away down Vesey Street—I would confound you with it now.

But I cannot forget its words. They are now graven and will be with me when I go to same:

"Stockholm, February 28.—The king of Sweden tonight presented the Nobel peace prize to U. S. Secretary of State Abner Q. Fessenden III. Secretary Fessenden, following an American custom that has gained strong root in recent years, awarded the king $38,000, causing his majesty to recall, not without a wistful trace, the day when just the reverse was true.

"Mr. Fessenden said that the decision of the Nobel committee was a correct one and, for the time being, at least, his government would not exercise meatball sanctions against Sweden. This threat had caused a cabinet crisis and mutterings in the Bourse only days before.

"In making the presentation, his majesty stated:

"'Secretary Fessenden crystalized years of groping American foreign policy by proposing and then implementing the Fessenden plan, which has brought to the world an era of peace it has not known since the Pax Brittanica.

"'It serves no purpose here to dwell at length on the makeup of the Fessenden plan except to comment that it was the natural culmination of a policy on which the United States had embarked, at first with timidity and later with increasing momentum.

"'Suffice it to say that Secretary Fessenden refined it to the 'nth degree in his now famous speech before the United States Congress (Riksdag) when he declared that his country had decided to settle the then lingering dispute between Egypt and Israel by buying both countries.

"'The two countries, as every rocket traveler knows, are now one big park. The Aswan Dam, completed only last year, supplies water for the fountains. Other parks are now under construction in the former Soviet Union, Yugoslavia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Albania, North Korea and Red China—all of them recently purchased and seeded.'"

Storage, Utility Structure Is Built At Green Ridge

The State Department of Forests and Parks is nearing the completion of a large central storage and utility building in Green Ridge State Forest.

William A. Johnson, district forester, said the concrete block structure is 85 feet long and 34 feet wide.

It will house some offices, a repair shop and contain space for storage of supplies and equipment used by the Department in its District 6, which is comprised of Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties.

The Green Ridge location was chosen because it is in the center of the district and is also in the midst of Green Ridge State Forest, the center of much forestry department activity.

The building is at the old CCC camp now occupied as a rehabilitation camp for youths from the Maryland Training School for Boys.

The department will open bids for heating the big building today in the office of the Maryland Department of Public Improvements, Baltimore.

So far bidders include Walter N. Yoder and Son, RD 5; Catina's Plumbing and Heating Service Bowling Green; C. R. Davis, 14 Marion Street, city; R. H. Lapp and Sons, 716 East Oldtown Road; H. and S. Heating and Plumbing Company, 132 Polk Street; Mertens Plumbing and Heating, Bedford Street; Simpson Plumbing and Heating Company, 243 Bedford Street; Carl G. Valentine, Oldtown Road; J. E. Woodyard, 18 Harrison Street, all of Cumberland.

Local Attorney Gives Support To Judge Baron

Edward J. Ryan, prominent Cumberland attorney and Democratic leader, in a statement yesterday praised the operation of the Juvenile Court of Allegany County during the administration of the incumbent magistrate, Morris Baron.

The Allegany County Republican State Central Committee has recommended to Governor McKeldin that Fred H. Anderson, local attorney, be appointed to succeed Baron, and the governor has included Anderson's name in the "Green Bag" sent to the State Senate for approval.

Ryan's statement follows:

"After many years of practice at the bar, I have found that from time to time very able men are sometimes overlooked because of party affiliation.

"One of the most important courts operating in Allegany County is that of the Juvenile Court which is presided over by Morris Baron. I regard the operations of this court under the auspices of Mr. Baron to rate with the best in the state. He has done a conscientious job, handles the problems with intelligence and judgment and is worthy of the support of both Democrats and Republicans who are interested in the welfare of the courts rather than the party affiliation.

"Mr. Baron is a scholar having degrees from Columbia and Harvard, has practiced law in this area for years, and his training and background together with his excellent judgment puts him in position of disposing of the problems of the Juvenile Court in a manner which reflects credit upon that institution and is a help to this entire community. I think we are lucky to have a man of his abilities in that position and I feel that he should be supported by those who are interested in the proper operations of the Juvenile Court.

"I am sure most people who have come in contact with him and know him will agree that he has done an excellent job and I am glad for what little it may be worth to publicly say that I feel he is eminently qualified for the position which he holds."

Youth Is Sentenced To Training School

A 14-year-old local boy was sentenced to the Maryland Training School for Boys yesterday after being found guilty of malicious destruction of public property.

Magistrate Morris Baron of Juvenile Court noted that the youth had previously been in trouble with the law.

He was charged with destroying six parking meters on Commerce Street last month. The youth admitted he "collected" only 50 cents from the meters.

Magistrate Baron said the estimated damage to the meters is $175.

A list of doctors of chiropractic in the state, along with their addresses, was sent to CD leaders in various sections of Maryland.

RC Bloodmobile Unit Will Visit City Next Week

The mobile unit from the Johnstown (Pa.) Regional Red Cross Blood Center will pay two visits to Allegany County next week. The first stop is scheduled here on Monday, while the other will be made the following day in Westernport.

Mrs. Norman W. Taylor, recruitment chairman, said the Johnstown Center has again requested her to schedule as many donors with O-negative type blood as is possible since the supply on hand is at a critically low level.

It is important, Mrs. Taylor stressed, that donors either keep their appointments, or notify the Red Cross office that they will be unable to do so. Because of the many colds and virus infections reported in the city, it is anticipated that substitutes will have to be asked to donate at Monday's visit, the recruitment chairman said.

The local headquarters for the bloodmobile is at the Eagles Home on North Mechanic Street. The Westernport contributing point will be the home of Victory Post 155, American Legion. Mrs. Paul Cueva, chairman for the Westernport visit, said the Sorroptomist Club and the Junior Association of Commerce are assisting in the recruitment in that area.

Time for both visits will be from noon to 6. p. m.

Telescopes were invented in 1590.

Scout Troop, Explorers Begin First Aid Drive

Boy Scout Troop and Explorer Post 13 are conducting a house-to-house "Be Prepared For Accidents" campaign in Cumberland.

Members of the units plan to visit every house in the city, to present the homeowner with a first aid chart featuring approved procedures for dealing with various types of accidents. The scouts will offer to assist local residents in checking their first aid supplies to determine if the home is adequately stocked for emergencies.

When the scouts find a home not fully equipped they will be able to offer a selection of first aid kits. The youths will also have available kits for automobiles, travel, hunters and fishermen.

Profits from the kits will be used to meet the costs of activities and to finance attendance of some members at the National Jamboree at Valley Forge (Pa.) this summer.

John Lower, chairman of the campaign, said the scouts hope the drive will alert the city to the importance of being prepared to give accident injuries prompt first aid care.

Storage, Utility Structure Is Built At Green Ridge

The State Department of Forests and Parks is nearing the completion of a large central storage and utility building in Green Ridge State Forest.

William A. Johnson, district forester, said the concrete block structure is 85 feet long and 34 feet wide.

It will house some offices, a repair shop and contain space for storage of supplies and equipment used by the Department in its District 6, which is comprised of Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties.

The Green Ridge location was chosen because it is in the center of the district and is also in the midst of Green Ridge State Forest, the center of much forestry department activity.

The building is at the old CCC camp now occupied as a rehabilitation camp for youths from the Maryland Training School for Boys.

The department will open bids for heating the big building today in the office of the Maryland Department of Public Improvements, Baltimore.

So far bidders include Walter N. Yoder and Son, RD 5; Catina's Plumbing and Heating Service Bowling Green; C. R. Davis, 14 Marion Street, city; R. H. Lapp and Sons, 716 East Oldtown Road; H. and S. Heating and Plumbing Company, 132 Polk Street; Mertens Plumbing and Heating, Bedford Street; Simpson Plumbing and Heating Company, 243 Bedford Street; Carl G. Valentine, Oldtown Road; J. E. Woodyard, 18 Harrison Street, all of Cumberland.

William R. Goebel, 25 Centennial Street, Frostburg, and Al's Sheet Metal Shop, 911 North Newkirk Street, Baltimore.

Local Attorney Gives Support To Judge Baron

Edward J. Ryan, prominent Cumberland attorney and Democratic leader, in a statement yesterday praised the operation of the Juvenile Court of Allegany County during the administration of the incumbent magistrate, Morris Baron.

The Allegany County Republican State Central Committee has recommended to Governor McKeldin that Fred H. Anderson, local attorney, be appointed to succeed Baron, and the governor has included Anderson's name in the "Green Bag" sent to the State Senate for approval.

Ryan's statement follows:

"After many years of practice at the bar, I have found that from time to time very able men are sometimes overlooked because of party affiliation.

"One of the most important courts operating in Allegany County is that of the Juvenile Court which is presided over by Morris Baron. I regard the operations of this court under the auspices of Mr. Baron to rate with the best in the state. He has done a conscientious job, handles the problems with intelligence and judgment and is worthy of the support of both Democrats and Republicans who are interested in the welfare of the courts rather than the party affiliation.

"Mr. Baron is a scholar having degrees from Columbia and Harvard, has practiced law in this area for years, and his training and background together with his excellent judgment puts him in position of disposing of the problems of the Juvenile Court in a manner which reflects credit upon that institution and is a help to this entire community. I think we are lucky to have a man of his abilities in that position and I feel that he should be supported by those who are interested in the proper operations of the Juvenile Court.

"I am sure most people who have come in contact with him and know him will agree that he has done an excellent job and I am glad for what little it may be worth to publicly say that I feel he is eminently qualified for the position which he holds."

Youth Is Sentenced To Training School

A 14-year-old local boy was sentenced to the Maryland Training School for Boys yesterday after being found guilty of malicious destruction of public property.

Magistrate Morris Baron of Juvenile Court noted that the youth had previously been in trouble with the law.

He was charged with destroying six parking meters on Commerce Street last month. The youth admitted he "collected" only 50 cents from the meters.

Magistrate Baron said the estimated damage to the meters is $175.

Cumberland Is Household Name Abroad, BPW Told

A report by the By-Laws committee and a talk by Arthur Verner, export sales manager for Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, featured the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club, Tuesday evening, at Central YMCA.

Speaking on "Cumberland's Interest in the Export World," Mr. Verner showed how Kelly tires are sold in every country of the world except those behind the iron and bamboo curtains; and how Kelly's foreign trade has made Cumberland a household name in England, South America, South Africa and Syria.

The speaker told of the problems of foreign credit. He thought that having a product that the people in foreign countries want makes for good international relations and makes Cumberland known all over the world, wherever Kelly sells tires.

Mr. Verner explained customs of doing business in the various countries. He said that in Syria one drinks a demi-tasse, then tells what he is interested in purchasing. Through various cups of coffee the price finally is agreed upon.

Miss Helen Beck presided at the brief business session, when the recommendation of the By-laws committee to bring the by-laws into agreement with the state by-laws was accepted. Letters from Henrytown State Hospital and from the Allegany County TB Association were read thanking the group for the gifts for the patients in Operation Christmas. Cumberland Is Household Name Abroad, BPW Told

A report by the By-Laws committee and a talk by Arthur Verner, export sales manager for Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, featured the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club, Tuesday evening, at Central YMCA.

Speaking on "Cumberland's Interest in the Export World," Mr. Verner showed how Kelly tires are sold in every country of the world except those behind the iron and bamboo curtains; and how Kelly's foreign trade has made Cumberland a household name in England, South America, South Africa and Syria.

The speaker told of the problems of foreign credit. He thought that having a product that the people in foreign countries want makes for good international relations and makes Cumberland known all over the world, wherever Kelly sells tires.

Mr. Verner explained customs of doing business in the various countries. He said that in Syria one drinks a demi-tasse, then tells what he is interested in purchasing. Through various cups of coffee the price finally is agreed upon.

Miss Helen Beck presided at the brief business session, when the recommendation of the By-laws committee to bring the by-laws into agreement with the state by-laws was accepted. Letters from Henrytown State Hospital and from the Allegany County TB Association were read thanking the group for the gifts for the patients in Operation Christmas. Miss Mary Walsh introduced the speaker. Miss Margaret Walsh was chairman of the International Relations committee, which was in charge of the program. She was assisted by Miss Gertrude Rank, Miss Irene Kirkeby, Mrs. Cara Ebert, Miss Elizabeth Milford, Mrs. Josephine MacMannis and Mrs. Elizabeth Hall.

Youth Gets Hearing For Cheese Theft

A local 15-year-old youth was taken to Juvenile Court yesterday morning by members of the Baltimore and Ohio Police Department for the theft of a quantity of cheese.

Authorities said that on Saturday night, February 16, the boy stole approximately 100 pounds of cheese from a freight car.

The cheese was the property of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and was being shipped through Cumberland. Police said the cheese was recovered.

Magistrate Morris Baron placed the boy on probation.

The judge said that the boy's cousin, 17 years of age, was also involved in the robbery, but since last Saturday he has been listed as a runaway.

Baron Will Speak

The Churchmens Brotherhood of St. Marks Evangelical and Reformed Church will meet in the social rooms of the church today at 7:30 p. m.

Magistrate Morris Baron will speak on "Juvenile and Parental Delinquency."

Lawyers Favor Central Tax Office

The Allegany County Bar Association has proposed legislation to create a central tax office for this county.

The 27 attorneys attending the dinner meeting at the Cumberland Country Club Tuesday night also voted unanimously in opposition to Senate Bill 290 introduced this session in the General Assembly.

Senate Bill 290, according to Harry I. Stegmaier, bar association president, would require that motor vehicle bills of sale and conditional contracts be recorded in the office of the motor vehicle commissioner instead of with the clerks of court.

Stegmaier reported the measure would be an inconvenience to residents of the counties and would deprive counties of recordation tax revenue.

A resolution was adopted, with only one dissenting vote, advocating legislation to establish a central tax office in Cumberland, with the tax collector to be placed on salary as well as his clerical staff.

Currently there are three tax collectors, one in Cumberland, one in Frostburg and the third in the Georges Creek area. The collectors work on a commission basis, which would be abolished by the proposed legislation.

According to information supplied the bar association, the cost of collecting Allegany County taxes runs from $42,000 to $48,000 annually.

The new plan, said the association, would save the county at least $20,000 a year. It would become effective July 1, 1958, when the collectors' terms expire.

Stegmaier said State Sen. Charles M. See and the six county delegates will be asked to support and introduce the tax collection bill, and also to oppose Senate Bill 290 which is in the hands of the Senate Committee on Judicial Proceedings.

The association also went on record as supporting the changes planned by the state in the office of the clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The new clerk of court office committee appointed by Stegmaier includes Leslie J. Clark, chairman; George R. Hughes Jr., William A. Carscaden, Matthew J. Mullaney, James S. Getty and Thomas L. Richards.

Stegmaier said a report was made by Thomas N. Berry, chairman of the workmen's compensation committee.

Milton Gerson was named chairman of a committee to plan for memorial services for deceased bar association members.

James S. Getty was appointed to arrange a social event in May.

Council Will Get Civil Service Report

A list of those who successfully passed the Civil Service Commission examination this week will be submitted to the Mayor and Council Monday, according to Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk and secretary to the commission.

The examinations were conducted Monday at Fort Hill High School and papers graded Tuesday night.

All three applicants took examination for stenographer. There were three of seven firemen applicants and five of seven policemen applicants completing the test in addition to 17 of the 20 who applied for fire lieutenant and both of the fire captain aspirants.

Building Permit Increase Cited

Building permit valuations for the first two months of the year are slightly above those for the same period a year ago.

Records at the building engineer's office showed yesterday that permits valued at $82,500 were issued in January and February this year compared to $82,500 the same two months a year ago.

During this month, there were nine permits issued including five for new construction, one for an addition to a business and three for moving buildings. They were valued at $46,070. This compared to $39,250 in January. In February a year ago, permits were valued at $60,800.

Lawyers Favor Central Tax Office

The Allegany County Bar Association has proposed legislation to create a central tax office for this county.

The 27 attorneys attending the dinner meeting at the Cumberland Country Club Tuesday night also voted unanimously in opposition to Senate Bill 290 introduced this session in the General Assembly.

Senate Bill 290, according to Harry I. Stegmaier, bar association president, would require that motor vehicle bills of sale and conditional contracts be recorded in the office of the motor vehicle commissioner instead of with the clerks of court.

Stegmaier reported the measure would be an inconvenience to residents of the counties and would deprive counties of recordation tax revenue.

A resolution was adopted, with only one dissenting vote, advocating legislation to establish a central tax office in Cumberland, with the tax collector to be placed on salary as well as his clerical staff.

Currently there are three tax collectors, one in Cumberland, one in Frostburg and the third in the Georges Creek area. The collectors work on a commission basis, which would be abolished by the proposed legislation.

According to information supplied the bar association, the cost of collecting Allegany County taxes runs from $42,000 to $48,000 annually.

The new plan, said the association, would save the county at least $20,000 a year. It would become effective July 1, 1958, when the collectors' terms expire.

Stegmaier said State Sen. Charles M. See and the six county delegates will be asked to support and introduce the tax collection bill, and also to oppose Senate Bill 290 which is in the hands of the Senate Committee on Judicial Proceedings.

The association also went on record as supporting the changes planned by the state in the office of the clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The new clerk of court office committee appointed by Stegmaier includes Leslie J. Clark, chairman; George R. Hughes Jr., William A. Carscaden, Matthew J. Mullaney, James S. Getty and Thomas L. Richards.

Stegmaier said a report was made by Thomas N. Berry, chairman of the workmen's compensation committee.

Milton Gerson was named chairman of a committee to plan for memorial services for deceased bar association members.

James S. Getty was appointed to arrange a social event in May.

Council Will Get Civil Service Report

A list of those who successfully passed the Civil Service Commission examination this week will be submitted to the Mayor and Council Monday, according to Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk and secretary to the commission.

The examinations were conducted Monday at Fort Hill High School and papers graded Tuesday night.

All three applicants took examination for stenographer. There were three of seven firemen applicants and five of seven policemen applicants completing the test in addition to 17 of the 20 who applied for fire lieutenant and both of the fire captain aspirants.

Building Permit Increase Cited

Building permit valuations for the first two months of the year are slightly above those for the same period a year ago.

Records at the building engineer's office showed yesterday that permits valued at $82,500 were issued in January and February this year compared to $82,500 the same two months a year ago.

During this month, there were nine permits issued including five for new construction, one for an addition to a business and three for moving buildings. They were valued at $46,070. This compared to $39,250 in January. In February a year ago, permits were valued at $60,800.

briefing on the certificate of incorporation for the United Fund.

The papers, he reported, have been filed and approved, so that the County United Fund is now incorporated as a non-profit organization.

Adopt By-Laws

They also provide that no organization shall be eligible to receive any funds from the corporation unless contributions are deductible, or exempt, for the purpose of income, estate, inheritance or gift taxes, both federal and state.

Mr. Carscaden also briefed the fund raisers on the by-laws of the County United Fund, Inc, which provide that each contributor shall automatically become a member of the corporation.

They specify that the annual meeting shall be held on the last Wednesday of each February at a place in Allegany County fixed by the executive committee. Directors are to be elected at the annual meeting.

Semi-annual meetings are also to be held on the first Thursday of September, and special meetings may be called at any time by the president, a majority of the executive committee or by at least 50 members (contributors) of the corporation.

Committees Set Up

Among the important committees set up by the by-laws are the admissions committee, which will accept and make recommendations on applications from all local, state and national organizations conducted for charitable youth, welfare and allied purposes which desire an allocation.

The allocations committee will review budgets of agencies approved by the admissions committee, and recommend to executive committee the amounts which should be allowed the various agencies.

The labor-management committee is to exert its best efforts to have all charity organizations which now exist abolished so chapters of the United Fund can be established.

The need for a United Fund was stressed by Mr. Ort, who said the County United Fund, Inc. was being formed as a result of a study brought on by the direct pressure of givers who were tired of overlapping drives, and workers tired of being called constantly to aid in campaigns.

Is Termed Necessity

"Those who have worked with it say that 'his United Fund is not only the answer," Mr. Ort

Dr. Hodges presented a report said, "but a big necessity."

on the organization of a United Fund at Williamsport, Pa., saying the UF in its first drive collected 2½ times as much as in any previous Chest drive.

Mayor Roy W. Eves congratulated the Nominating committee for its good judgment and termed the organization of the UF a major milestone in the history of the city.

"We have undertaken one of the most progressive steps in the history of the area," Mr. Pealer added.

Three Are Divorced

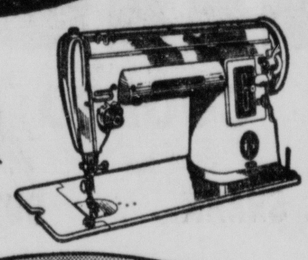

Three divorces have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Leroy Miller obtained a divorce from Elsie M. Miller. Daniel Gordon, a minor, petitioning through Jacob Gordon, his father and next friend, was granted a divorce from Shelbia Jean Gordon.

Constance Irene Woods was granted a divorce from Talmage Woods and custody of their two minor children.

briefing on the certificate of incorporation for the United Fund.

The papers, he reported, have been filed and approved, so that the County United Fund is now incorporated as a non-profit organization.

Adopt By-Laws

They also provide that no organization shall be eligible to receive any funds from the corporation unless contributions are deductible, or exempt, for the purpose of income, estate, inheritance or gift taxes, both federal and state.

Mr. Carscaden also briefed the fund raisers on the by-laws of the County United Fund, Inc, which provide that each contributor shall automatically become a member of the corporation.

They specify that the annual meeting shall be held on the last Wednesday of each February at a place in Allegany County fixed by the executive committee. Directors are to be elected at the annual meeting.

Semi-annual meetings are also to be held on the first Thursday of September, and special meetings may be called at any time by the president, a majority of the executive committee or by at least 50 members (contributors) of the corporation.

Committees Set Up

Among the important committees set up by the by-laws are the admissions committee, which will accept and make recommendations on applications from all local, state and national organizations conducted for charitable youth, welfare and allied purposes which desire an allocation.

The allocations committee will review budgets of agencies approved by the admissions committee, and recommend to executive committee the amounts which should be allowed the various agencies.

The labor-management committee is to exert its best efforts to have all charity organizations which now exist abolished so chapters of the United Fund can be established.

The need for a United Fund was stressed by Mr. Ort, who said the County United Fund, Inc. was being formed as a result of a study brought on by the direct pressure of givers who were tired of overlapping drives, and workers tired of being called constantly to aid in campaigns.

Is Termed Necessity

"Those who have worked with it say that 'his United Fund is not only the answer," Mr. Ort

Dr. Hodges presented a report said, "but a big necessity."
on the organization of a United Fund at Williamsport, Pa., saying the UF in its first drive collected 2½ times as much as in any previous Chest drive.

Mayor Roy W. Eves congratulated the Nominating committee for its good judgment and termed the organization of the UF a major milestone in the history of the city.

"We have undertaken one of the most progressive steps in the history of the area," Mr. Pealer added.

Three Are Divorced

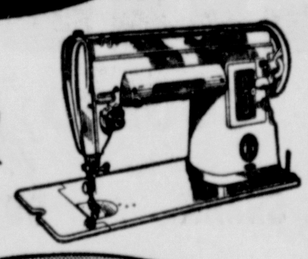

Three divorces have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Leroy Miller obtained a divorce from Elsie M. Miller. Daniel Gordon, a minor, petitioning through Jacob Gordon, his father and next friend, was granted a divorce from Shelbia Jean Gordon.

Constance Irene Woods was granted a divorce from Talmage Woods and custody of their two minor children.

Teachers Leave For Convention

Seven Allegany County music teachers and seven outstanding Cumberland high school singers will leave tomorrow morning for the biennial convention of the Eastern Division of Music Educators National Conference which begins tomorrow in Atlantic City, N. J., and ends next Tuesday.

The teachers who will attend are W. Valgene Routch, supervisor of music education in the county public schools; Mrs. Alice Ellenberger Routch, piano teacher; Miss Irene Dahmer and Miss Anita Dickens, special music teachers; Miss Ann E. Thompson, music teacher at Cresaptown School; Robert O. Nutter, instrumental music teacher at Fort Hill High School, and Frank R. Munson, instrumental music teacher at Beall High School.

The seven high school students will sing Monday in a concert to be presented by the Eastern All-Conference Chorus. They include Gertrude Berry, Barbara Lippold, Alice Zehrbach and Darrell Henry, all of Fort Hill High School, and Allen Emerick, Elizabeth Murray and Gayle Reed of Allegany High School.

The Atlantic City convention is one of six scheduled in the United States this year. Last year the Music Educators National Conference began observance of its golden anniversary at its national convention in St. Louis, Mo.

Nearly 1,500 Sets Of Auto Tags Sold

Nearly 1,500 sets of new Maryland automobile license tags have been sold in four days at the office of Tax Collector J. Wallace Close in the Court House.

The pace slackened off yesterday when some 381 sets were sold. Monday and Tuesday there had been more than 500 sets sold. Only 65 were disposed of last Saturday the first day of activity. The new tags must be displayed on or before midnight Sunday, March 31.

Bedford Area Man Joins Army Here

State Senate Votes

Sen. Dempsey (D-Balto 3d), sponsor of both the compulsory and the combination measures, said he preferred the latter but guessed his chance for pushing it to passage was "a little less than even."

Premium Hike Forecast

Under the combination insurance-fund bill, he said, "there would be no conceivable accident where the defendant is negligent and the injured party goes unpaid."

However, Sen. Wheatley (D-Montgomery) read a letter from Deputy Insurance Commissioner John H. Coppage expressing an opinion that any form of compulsory insurance might lead to premium rate increase of up to 25 per cent.

Dempsey said this and other objections by Coppage were "guesses that have been hedged in with probabilities."

Under the unsatisfied claim bill, motorists who carry liability insurance would pay $1 into the fund, uninsured motorists would contribute $8, and insurance companies would chip in ½ of 1 per cent of their premiums after agents' commissions are deducted.

Dempsey, deciaring the fund would take four years to set up, called it "a grain of sand on the beach—nothing more than a token gesture."

Earlier today the Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to require railroads to pay their employes weekly and enacted another motor vehicles measure—requiring that left turns from one-way streets or dual highways be made from the extreme left lane.

Permit Issued For Post Office

Clyde S. Slider, 811 Louisiana Avenue, yesterday secured a permit from the city for the construction of the new Station A post office on Virginia Avenue.

The building will be 48 by 96 feet, with a 48 by 12 foot concrete loading platform in the rear.

The one-story structure will be built of concrete block with a built-up roof, at a cost of about $24,000.

A paved maneuver area adjacent to the loading platform will be 30 by 48 feet.

Razing of a wooden building located at 117 Virginia Avenue, on the site of the new station, began about two weeks ago.

Rev. Brinley Evans Will Address Rally

Rev. Brinley Evans, Brooklyn, deputation secretary for the Eastern States and former missionary to Nigeria, will speak at the Tri-State Youth for Christ Rally Saturday at 8 p. m. in the Salvation Army Citadel, 115 North Mechanic Street.

Rev. Mr. Evans was born in South Wales, Great Britain, and went to Nigeria as a missionary in 1938 under the Sudan Interior Mission.

Mr. Evans also worked among Moslems and in a leper colony and was responsible for heading up the Youth for Christ movement in Kano, Nigeria.

He also is an accomplished violinist and will play hymns and selections.

Man Pays $10 Fine In Assault Case

Louis Robert Stevenson, Nash Street, paid a $10 fine and court costs in Trial Magistrates Court Monday on a charge of assault against Charles Paul Roeder, local parking lot proprietor.

The assault took place last December but the hearing was postponed due to the illness of Stevenson.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason said the dispute took place because Stevenson believed Roeder was charging a parking fee for space for which he had no title. A 30-day jail sentence was suspended on condition Stevenson pay the parking fee and be of general good behavior.

What Happens If 'Chief' Is Disabled?

What happens if the President of the United States is unable to perform his duties? Who should determine that he is incapacitated? How should the decision be made? When?

These and other perplexing questions, not specifically answered in the Constitution, are due for long and serious study on Capitol Hill beginning today. A resolution that is now the unfinished business of the Senate would establish a special joint Congressional committee to study "all matters connected with the election, succession and duties of the President and Vice President." The measure expressly sets forth as a subject for investigation "inability of the President to discharge his powers and duties."

Committee Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) of the House Judiciary Committee and Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY), ranking minority member, are backing a proposal to give the Vice President authority to decide when a stricken President is unable to perform his duties. Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen Jr. (R-NJ) is sponsoring a constitutional amendment that would have the Supreme Court determine Presidential inability upon the suggestion of Congress. Sen. Frederick G. Payne (R-Maine) has introduced a bill that would establish a Hoover-type commission to study Presidential inability, also the Electoral College method of selecting the President and the role in government of the Vice President.

The general idea of spelling out the procedures to be followed when the Chief Executive becomes incapacitated has the expressed blessing of President Eisenhower. When Eisenhower announced his availability for a second term he said: "As quickly as legislation could be drawn up that would convince us all that it did clarify . . . the conflicting ideas . . . I would be for it . . . just as soon as possible."

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Presidential Service

The first task of a President is to be sure that he is well serviced. Obviously it would have been impossible for President Eisenhower to have delivered his speech on the problems of Israel had he been adequately serviced, for the essential proposition of that speech was an untenable one, namely, that although Soviet Russia committed international crimes, nothing can be done about Soviet Russia because of the enormous size and power of that country and because Russia possesses the veto in the Security Council. Nevertheless it is possible to punish a country which is smaller and less powerful than Soviet Russia and which does not possess the power of veto in the Security Council. These are the President's exact words:

"No one deplores more than I the fact that the Soviet Union ignores the resolutions of the United Nations. Also, no nation is more vigorous than is the United States in seeking to exert moral pressure against the Soviet Union, which by reason of its size and power and by reason of its veto in the Security Council, is relatively impervious to other types of sanction.

"The United States and other free nations are making clear by every means at their command the evil of Soviet conduct in Hungary. It would be indeed, a sad day if the United States ever felt that it had to subject Israel to the same type of moral pressure as is being applied to the Soviet Union."

On February 21, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Maxwell Rabb, Secretary to the Cabinet, met with eight citizens who are influential Jews, at the request of the White House. A press story was given out suggesting that a distinction was being made between Zionists and non-Zionists and giving the impression that the eight were non-Zionists, which happened not to be true. All of them are distinguished for their services to Israel, particularly in the matter of fund raising and the sale of Israel bonds in this country. Again, there was evidence of poor service and inaccurate information to the President.

It was suggested in the news stories that were given out that these gentlemen would be primed to bring pressure on Israel, which they could not do. The word, pressure, was toned down in subsequent releases to the press. The gentlemen were embarrassed by the entire proceedings and gave out their own interviews which clearly indicated that they would continue to raise funds for Israel, John Foster Dulles and Maxwell Rabb notwithstanding.

Another instance of bad servicing is undoubtedly the witnessing of Henry Byroade before the Senate committees studying the Middle Eastern proposals of the President. Byroade is a State Department perennial who went with General George Marshall to China as an expert and so expertized that General Marshall has since been in a dilemma to explain how it happened that a long truce he advocated benefited the Chinese Reds. Then Byroade was taken off the Far East and eventually landed in Egypt where he should have known that Nasser had made a separate deal with the Russians to exchange arms for cotton and where he should have known that Nasser planned to seize the Suez Canal.

When he appeared before the Senate committees as an expert witness, Byroade seemed, to some Senators, to hold the view that the United States should finance Egypt so that that country can buy more arms from Soviet Russia. It sounds queer as one says it, but some of the Senators gathered that impression.

The President of the United States has an exceedingly difficult position and when he is inadequately serviced, errors are made which often are of such a magnitude that they never can be corrected. The President should have carefully gathered and evaluated data from which the fat of emotionalism and prejudice has been cut away. No other man presently possesses such powers as the President of the United States and therefore no other man can make such monumental mistakes.

The $72,000,000,000 budget, which if everything were included would come closer to $100,000,000,000, is an error of judgment which even Mr. Eisenhower's Secretary of the Treasury and friend, George Humphrey, had to denounce. That budget can probably be cut by $7,000,000,000, but the way it stands, it makes peace more devastating than war.

Accustomed To Having It Around The House

Senate Democrats Fiddle While Mideast Burns

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The Senate quibbles while the Middle East burns and American leadership is frustrated. Will the American people begin to ask themselves soon if they made a grave mistake in electing a Democratic Congress last November? For the effects of a divided government—with one party in control of the White House and the opposite party in control of Congress—are growing so serious as possibly to endanger the peace of the United States.

The leadership of the United States—and particularly the leadership of President Eisenhower which has meant so much throughout the world to the cause of peace and the prevention of World War III—is being steadily undermined by a group of captious Democrats in the Senate. They are making all kinds of excuses for delaying passage of the Eisenhower Doctrine resolution. This delay has every appearance of sabotage and filibuster.

The Senate has had ample time for debate — from the week of January 7 when the resolution was introduced. But after seven weeks of drifting, the leader of the Senate Democrats, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, had to say frankly to the Senate on Monday of this week that one of the problems he had last week was to find one Senator to speak and another to be present. He said the Senate itself is "on trial" because the country cannot understand why so few Senators have been present during the discussion of an issue as important as the Middle East resolution.

Yet, when the Democratic leader attempted to set a time limit for the debate, a Democratic Senator promptly served notice he would object and, of course, only one objection is necessary to block an agreement to limit debate.

This has all the earmarks of a filibuster by a bloc of Democrats who do not favor the resoultion but know that if it comes to a vote it will pass by a substantial majority. The Republicans generally have spoken in favor of it and are ready to vote, so the tactics of the Democrats now are to drag the debate along from day to day with one or two Senators to do the speaking.

But the country will hold the Democratic Party responsible for what happens in the Senate. The House, under the statesmanlike leadership of Speaker Rayburn, Democrat, passed the resolution promptly by a vote of 355 to 61 on January 30, but the House has rules with which to limit debate and prevent an organized minority from filibustering.

It is a strange and unusual development to see members of the U. S. Senate filibustering on a matter of foreign policy. The last episode of this kind was fatal. A handful of Senators—mostly Republicans — would not let a resolution pass which President Wilson, Democrat, wanted in order to arm American merchantmen and repel attacks by German submarines. The filibuster lasted till Congress was automatically adjourned at noon on March 4, 1917. But the encouragement derived by the Kaiser from this disunity in America was such that unrestricted warfare by his submarines was soon begun against vessels of all flags, and the consequence was that within four weeks—on April 6, 1917—the United States had to enter World War I to defend the rights of American citizens to travel the high seas.

There are Democratic Senators who say they see no "urgency" in the situation, thus setting themselves up as better judges of the risks involved than the President of the United States with all the secret and confidential information available to the Chief Executive from all parts of the world concerning Soviet subversion and penetration in Free World countries.

The debate thus far in the Senate by the critics of the resolution has been a hodge-podge of excuses and conflicting claims. Some Democrats say the United Nations is being by-passed and that America should work more closely with it, while others say America should not place its reliance on the U.N. One Democratic Senator says the President already has the authority he requests, and another Democratic Senator says the President wants to use the armed forces without regard to the Constitution. One might infer that he thinks the President is right in asking for Congressional authority, but other Democratic Senators say that's all wrong—that it's a power frequently exercised before by Presidents.

Most of these Democratic Senators are partisan. But the record shows that there is a remarkable unanimity on the Republican side of the Senate. The "isolationist" comments about "entangling alliances" are nowadays coming from Democratic Senators who usually call themselves "liberal." It's just a tragic fight against the Administration by its opponents.

The issue that may emerge from all this is one the people may have to settle in the elections of November 1958—whether, when they voted overwhelmingly for President Eisenhower in 1956 and gave the Democrats control of the Senate by a narrow margin, they intended to vote for the chaos of a divided government in Washington and thus weaken the hand of their leader and spokesman before the world.

Constant Alertness To Rabies Is Needed

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Ten to 24 persons died each year from rabies during the period 1949-54. This is not a large number but the mortality rate does not reflect the magnitude of the problem of controling the diesease.

Large sums of money are expended annually on the Pasteur treatment and to investigate the thousands of animal bites reported to health departments. Laboratories and kennels must be maintained to study and house suspected animals and to handle the problems of stray dogs and cats. To all this can be added the financial loss suffered by the farmer and home owner who lose live stock, and valuable pets because of rabies.

It has been estimated that 93 per cent of all cases of human rabies stem from the bite of a pet dog or cat. These animals acquire the infection from strays who in turn get rabies from cattle and from undomesticated animals such as foxes, skunks, and bats.

By studying this chain of events it becomes obvious that immunization of our pets is the answer. In this way, Rover will act as a barrier between man and strays. He benefits because rabies is just as hard on him as on humans.

Vaccination is not new and has worked well in areas where at least 70 per cent of all dogs are immunized. Control measures also include the elimination of strays and an adequate licensing system for identification of animals known to have been bitten by a rabid or suspected beast.

The disease, once acquired, invariably is fatal. But only half the rabid dogs are capable of transmitting the virus.

In this respect, there is a 50-50 chance of dying when bitten by a rabid animal.

Much depends upon the concentration of the rabies virus in the dog's saliva and what part of the body is bitten. The most susceptible areas are the head, neck, and face, which are closest to the brain.

The depth of the bite also counts. Clothing makes a difference because it removes saliva as the animal's teeth pass thru the cloth before penetrating the skin.

The Pasteur treatment always is recommended when a person is attacked by a dog known to be rabid or later proved so. But this vaccine takes time to work and may not protect the victim. The new hyperimmune serum provides temporary but immediate protection. Combining the two is so effective that the plan is hailed as one of the most notable advances since Pasteur's original work on the disease.

Try And Stop Me!

A lady called the producer of a TV thriller series and said, "What a wonderful program you had last night! Please tell me how it turned out."

"What happened?" asked the producer sympathetically. "Did your set go out of kilter at the wrong moment?"

"Oh, no," said the lady. "The set's fine. I just fell asleep."

"How did you get the lines so straight?"

FDR Jr. Finds Dominican Republic Dictator Too Bloody For His Taste

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. has decided to give up his $60,000 contract as lobbyist of bloody dictator Trujillo of the Dominican Republic. Trujillo's latest reported involvement in the disappearance of Gerry Murphy, the pilot who reputedly spirited Columbia professor Jesus de Galindez out of the USA, was too much for young Roosevelt.

However, he's having trouble with his lobbying partner, Charles Patrick, who makes a specialty of lobbying for dictators. He draws around $75,000 a year from Spain.

Roosevelt informed Congressman Charles Porter of Oregon that he was not renewing his contract with Trujillo. But when Clark's office was asked about this, Clark said he knew of no change, later called Congressman Porter's office to say there had been no change in his and Roosevelt's contract with Trujillo.

Tennessee Teamsters

Meanwhile, Congressman Porter has written letters to his GOP colleague, Congresswoman Katharine St. George of New York, to Col. Carroll Cone, vice president of Pan American Airways, and to Father Joseph F. Thorning, who has been active around Congress on behalf of both Trujillo and Franco, cautioning them about the medals they are getting from Trujillo. Porter has suggested that they might want to read a speech he is delivering regarding the murders of the Dominican Republic before they accept or keep their medals.

Last July John Seigenthaler, ace reporter for the Nashville Tennesseean, telephoned Dave Beck, czar of the Teamsters Union, to tell him that two of his Tennessee teamster bosses, Local 317, had police records and were up to the ears in local shenanigans. He also relayed the same message to Jim Hoffa, notorious teamster czar for the midwest states.

Seigenthaler has yet to get an answer from either. Meanwhile, teamster activities in Tennessee are following a pattern which AFL-CIO president George Meany and most of the labor movement sincerely want to clean up, but which the boss of the world's biggest union condones.

W. A. Smith, Nashville teamster business agent, has had numerous arrests for drunkenness and assault, but somehow witnesses always seem to be afraid to appear against him. In 1953 he was arrested for beating up Wallace Rasmussen, general manager of the Meadowgold Ice Cream Company. Rasmussen was all hot to press charges. But when Smith went on trial, Rasmussen refused to take the witness stand. Teamsters' power was too great.

On October 30, 1955, Smith was arrested for assaulting Frank Allen, manager of the Terminal Transport Company. Allen hired an attorney to make sure the case was prosecuted. But on the morning the case came up in court the lawyer announced that he was most embarrassed, but Allen would not testify. Again the power of the teamsters was too great.

Recently, however, thanks to a campaign by the Nashville Tennesseean, the climate has changed. Teamsters Perry H. Canaday and C. B. Richardson have been convicted of murder, and other teamsters have been fined for contempt of court. Messrs. Beck and Hoffa, however, did nothing to clean up.

Why The Russian Arms?

When the fast-moving Israeli Army blitzed into Egypt last fall, it found the most amazing cache of arms accumulated any place since World War II. Russian tanks, artillery, half-tracks, ammunition of every kind and description were spread out over the Sinai desert. The store of arms was so vast and varied that unquestionably it was to be used not only as an Egyptian base for attacking Israel, but for some kind of Russian drive to take over the Near East.

The Israelie Army wiped out or captured this arsenal.

One very important point to be considered in any UN debate for the punishment of Israel is why this stock of arms was allowed to accumulate and whether its accumulation was not in fact an act of aggression against Israel. If, for instnce, Russia stored arms 25 miles across the Mexican border from El Paso, the citizens of Texas and probably the rest of the United States would have done exactly what the Israelis did.

It's also important to note that these arms didn't get to the Egyptian-Israeli border overnight. The United States first got word they were coming one year and four months earlier—June 1955. One month later, the President met with Bulganin and Khrushchev at Geneva. Yet nothing was done during the smiles of Geneva to stop arms shipments obviously aimed at war.

Two months later, Secretary Dulles stopped a move by Secretary of Agriculture Benson to dump surplus American cotton abroad, because, Dulles said, it would hurt America's cotton-growing friends such as Egypt.

A few months later, Dulles began to urge Nasser to accept money for the Aswan Dam. Nasser played it coy, said he might get the money from Russia. Dulles urged, almost begged him to take the money. Meanwhile, U. S. intelligence agents reported and American newspapers published that Russian arms were pouring into Egypt, that Russian pilots were training Egyptian pilots, that Russian technicians were training Egyptian tankmen.

All this time not a thing was done by the United States to stop the arms flow, which was sure to lead to war.

Note 1—These arms, incidentally, were only 25 miles from the home of Prime Minister Ben-Gurion. Egyptian jet bases were less than 30 minutes bombardment time away from Tel Aviv.

Note 2—Harry Truman told me on February 21, 1956, eight months before the Israeli attack: "If I were in the White House I'd use the U. S. Sixth Fleet to stop those arms before they even got through the Bosporus."

How accurate were the predictions as to the blessed events at your house? A Bronx mother, who was unusually anxious to know whether her expected infant would be a girl or a boy, consulted several physicians and a number of astrologers. She also took a saliva test. All predictions were that her expected child would be a boy. And so what? She gave birth to twin girls!

EXPECTANCY

The life expectancy of the average man in the United States is 69 6/10 years. According to the trade paper, the Advertising Age, the life expectancy of advertising people in this country is 57 9/10 years. That is about 12 years below the average. Not so good. Those in the advertising business should take things easier. It was Schopenhauer, who so rightly said, "The greatest mistake a man can make is to secrifice health for any other advantage."

Queries from clients. Q. What was Anna Held's last show? Was Mary Eaton in it? A. Anna's last show was a musical titled "Follow me," which was presented in 1916. Mary Eaton had a small part in it. Q. Who is Pamela Joan Woolworth? Any relation to Barbara Hutton? A. Pamela, who is 28, and married, is Barbara's cousin. She is also in possession of much coin of the realm and apparently seeks to increase her fortune by engaging in a wide variety of business enterprises. She owns a two million acre rance on which there are 65,000 head of cattle in Paraguay, a dress shop in Miami, Fla., and a picture producing organization called Dragon Films.

SIDELIGHTS

Recently I said I had readers named Cleopatra but none named Salome. I find I have two readers in Brooklyn named Salome. It is as I am always telling you, Brooklyn has everything . . . PLEASE NOTE

Illegally distilled whisky, in bottles bearing counterfeit labels of famous British brands of Scotch, has been sold in Italy in large quantities. So the Italian police have just discovered. Something like that could happen here. Be careful where you buy your liquor. Also occasionally have it tested and the label checked as to being genuine.

DIAMONDS

Are diamonds, as has been alleged, "a girl's best friend?" That is, from the angle of their increasing in value as time goes by? I always thought such was the case. I was, therefore, surprised to see it reported that a 213 carat diamond necklace for which $750,000 was paid 40 years ago, in 1916, was sold recently for $385,000. A depreciation in value of almost 50 per cent!

EX-HUSBANDS

There appears to be no adequate masculine equivalent of the term divorcee. Some dictionaries deem it proper to refer to a divorced person of either sex as "a divorcee." However, to say or write "he is a divorcee" doesn't sound right. However, I can't think of a replacement for this term. Have you any suggestions? Let's try to solve this confusing situation. In the meanwhile, we can refer to divorced men simply as ex-husbands. Or courtroom widowers.

LULLABY TIME

M. L. writes: Why do I always have songs running through my head, especially when I go to bed at night?

REPLY

It must be the nightingale in you. Some songs have more staying power than others and are hard to erase from the mind. I assume you do not suffer from ringing ears, a common disturbance in certain types of deafness.

READING SPEC TIME

F. G. writes: If an eye doctor tells you that you don't need glasses now but will in a year's time, does this mean you have an eye disease?

REPLY

Not to my knowledge. I presume the physician is relying upon the law of averages, as most persons require reading glasses after age 40.

HOLDING THE BREATH

T. F. writes: For how many seconds should a healthy person be able to hold the breath?

REPLY

Many can hold the breath 30 to 60 seconds without difficulty but I'm sure the record is double or triple that time. Those with a large lung capacity are able to stash away more oxygen in a single breath, but, in my opinion, the maneuver is little more than self-torture.

What Happens If 'Chief' Is Disabled?

What happens if the President of the United States is unable to perform his duties? Who should determine that he is incapacitated? How should the decision be made? When?

These and other perplexing questions, not specifically answered in the Constitution, are due for long and serious study on Capitol Hill beginning today. A resolution that is now the unfinished business of the Senate would establish a special joint Congressional committee to study "all matters connected with the election, succession and duties of the President and Vice President." The measure expressly sets forth as a subject for investigation "inability of the President to discharge his powers and duties."

Committee Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) of the House Judiciary Committee and Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY), ranking minority member, are backing a proposal to give the Vice President authority to decide when a stricken President is unable to perform his duties. Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen Jr. (R-NJ) is sponsoring a constitutional amendment that would have the Supreme Court determine Presidential inability upon the suggestion of Congress. Sen. Frederick G. Payne (R-Maine) has introduced a bill that would establish a Hoover-type commission to study Presidential inability, also the Electoral College method of selecting the President and the role in government of the Vice President.

The general idea of spelling out the procedures to be followed when the Chief Executive becomes incapacitated has the expressed blessing of President Eisenhower. When Eisenhower announced his availability for a second term he said: "As quickly as legislation could be drawn up that would convince us all that it did clarify . . . the conflicting ideas . . . I would be for it . . . just as soon as possible."

The "isolationist" comments about "entangling alliances" are nowadays coming from Democratic Senators who usually call themselves "liberal." It's just a tragic fight against the Administration by its opponents.

The issue that may emerge from all this is one the people may have to settle in the elections of November 1958—whether, when they voted overwhelmingly for President Eisenhower in 1956 and gave the Democrats control of the Senate by a narrow margin, they intended to vote for the chaos of a divided government in Washington and thus weaken the hand of their leader and spokesman before the world.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Old Tommaso Jefferson joined the Parenthesis and Teachers Association when he cracked that few are impeached and none resign.

All organizations are the better for important resignations. We've been Univacking them this Administration and the legend on the doormat reads Welcome both ways.

The White House hates to see 'em go. But they go.

Franklin Delano had a rubber stamp that wept softly as it endorsed the exit. The Republicans have one sympathetic stamp that sobs.

Remember when the two-headed boy passed Civil Service for the Pentagon? They told him, "Go out and get another head. Everything here is in triplicate."

He stayed long enough to get a vote of confidence and resign. And the fellow who really hated to see him go was the guy holding the door open.

When an officeteer resigns in Washington his successor is appointed to increase the vacancy. By marching out four abreast they get club rates.

Here's a sure tip-off on the symptoms of the impending heave-ho. Coming events cast their testimonial dinners before.

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Ten to 24 persons died each year from rabies during the period 1949-54. This is not a large number but the mortality rate does not reflect the magnitude of the problem of controling the diesease.

Large sums of money are expended annually on the Pasteur treatment and to investigate the thousands of animal bites reported to health departments. Laboratories and kennels must be maintained to study and house suspected animals and to handle the problems of stray dogs and cats. To all this can be added the financial loss suffered by the farmer and home owner who lose live stock, and valuable pets because of rabies.

It has been estimated that 98 per cent of all cases of human rabies stem from the bite of a pet dog or cat. These animals acquire the infection from strays who in turn get rabies from cattle and from undomesticated animals such as foxes, skunks, and bats.

By studying this chain of events it becomes obvious that immunization of our pets is the answer. In this way, Rover will act as a barrier between man and strays. He benefits because rabies is just as hard on him as on humans.

Vaccination is not new and has worked well in areas where at least 70 per cent of all dogs are immunized. Control measures also include the elimination of strays and an adequate licensing system for identification of animals known to have been bitten by a rabid or suspected beast.

The disease, once acquired, invariably is fatal. But only half the rabid dogs are capable of transmitting the virus.

In this respect, there is a 50-50 chance of dying when bitten by a rabid animal.

Much depends upon the concentration of the rabies virus in the dog's saliva and what part of the body is bitten. The most susceptible areas are the head, neck, and face, which are closest to the brain.

The depth of the bite also counts. Clothing makes a difference because it removes saliva as the animal's teeth pass thru the cloth before penetrating the skin.

The Pasteur treatment always is recommended when a person is attacked by a dog known to be rabid or later proved so. But this vaccine takes time to work and may not protect the victim. The new hyperimmune serum provides temporary but immediate protection. Combining the two is so effective that the plan is hailed as one of the most notable advances since Pasteur's original work on the disease.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A lady called the producer of a TV thriller series and said, "What a wonderful program you had last night! Please tell me how it turned out."

"What happened?" asked the producer sympathetically. "Did your set go out of kilter at the wrong moment?"

"Oh, no," said the lady. "The set's fine. I just fell asleep."

A successful author of children's books met one of his devoted readers at an autographing party recently. She was a perky miss of eight, and when he gravely shook her hand she inquired, "Did you really write all those books yourself?" He modestly assured her that he had indeed: Then she demanded,

"How did you get the lines so straight?"

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. has decided to give up his $60,000 contract as lobbyist of bloody dictator Trujillo of the Dominican Republic. Trujillo's latest reported involvement in the disappearance of Gerry Murphy, the pilot who reputedly spirited Columbia professor Jesus de Galindez out of the USA, was too much for young Roosevelt.

However, he's having trouble with his lobbying partner, Charles Patrick, who makes a specialty of lobbying for dictators. He draws around $75,000 a year from Spain.

Roosevelt informed Congressman Charles Porter of Oregon that he was not renewing his contract with Trujillo. But when Clark's office was asked about this, Clark said he knew of no change, later called Congressman Porter's office to say there had been no change in his and Roosevelt's contract with Trujillo.

Tennessee Teamsters

Meanwhile, Congressman Porter has written letters to his GOP colleague, Congresswoman Katharine St. George of New York, to Col. Carroll Cone, vice president of Pan American Airways, and to Father Joseph F. Thorning, who has been active around Congress on behalf of both Trujillo and Franco, cautioning them about the medals they are getting from Trujillo. Porter has suggested that they might want to read a speech he is delivering regarding the murders of the Dominican Republic before they accept or keep their medals.

Last July John Seigenthaler, ace reporter for the Nashville Tennesseean, telephoned Dave Beck, czar of the Teamsters Union, to tell him that two of his Tennessee teamster bosses, Local 317, had police records and were up to the ears in local shenanigans. He also relayed the same message to Jim Hoffa, notorious teamster czar for the midwest states.

Seigenthaler has yet to get an answer from either. Meanwhile, teamster activities in Tennessee are following a pattern which AFL-CIO president George Meany and most of the labor movement sincerely want to clean up, but which the boss of the world's biggest union condones.

W. A. Smith, Nashville teamster business agent, has had numerous arrests for drunkenness and assault, but somehow witnesses always seem to be afraid to appear against him. In 1953 he was arrested for beating up Wallace Rasmussen, general manager of the Meadowgold Ice Cream Company. Rasmussen was all hot to press charges. But when Smith went on trial, Rasmussen refused to take the witness stand. Teamsters' power was too great.

On October 30, 1955, Smith was arrested for assaulting Frank Allen, manager of the Terminal Transport Company. Allen hired an attorney to make sure the case was prosecuted. But on the morning the case came up in court the lawyer announced that he was most embarrassed, but Allen would not testify. Again the power of the teamsters was too great.

Recently, however, thanks to a campaign by the Nashville Tennesseean, the climate has changed. Teamsters Perry H. Canaday and C. B. Richardson have been convicted of murder, and other teamsters have been fined for contempt of court. Messrs. Beck and Hoffa, however, did nothing to clean up.

Why The Russian Arms?

When the fast-moving Israeli Army blitzed into Egypt last fall, it found the most amazing cache of arms accumulated any place since World War II. Russian tanks, artillery, half-tracks, ammunition of every kind and description were spread out over the Sinai desert. The store of arms was so vast and varied that unquestionably it was to be used not only as an Egyptian base for attacking Israel, but for some kind of Russian drive to take over the Near East.

The Israelie Army wiped out or captured this arsenal.

One very important point to be considered in any UN debate for the punishment of Israel is why this stock of arms was allowed to accumulate and whether its accumulation was not in fact an act of aggression against Israel. If, for instnce, Russia stored arms 25 miles across the Mexican border from El Paso, the citizens of Texas and probably the rest of the United States would have done exactly what the Israelis did.

It's also important to note that these arms didn't get to the Egyptian-Israeli border overnight. The United States first got word they were coming one year and four months earlier—June 1955. One month later, the President met with Bulganin and Khrushchev at Geneva. Yet nothing was done during the smiles of Geneva to stop arms shipments obviously aimed at war.

Two months later, Secretary Dulles stopped a move by Secretary of Agriculture Benson to dump surplus American cotton abroad, because, Dulles said, it would hurt America's cotton-growing friends such as Egypt.

A few months later, Dulles began to urge Nasser to accept money for the Aswan Dam. Nasser played it coy, said he might get the money from Russia. Dulles urged, almost begged him to take the money. Meanwhile, U. S. intelligence agents reported and American newspapers published that Russian arms were pouring into Egypt, that Russian pilots were training Egyptian pilots, that Russian technicians were training Egyptian tankmen.

All this time not a thing was done by the United States to stop the arms flow, which was sure to lead to war.

Note 1—These arms, incidentally, were only 25 miles from the home of Prime Minister Ben-Gurion. Egyptian jet bases were less than 30 minutes bombardment time away from Tel Aviv.

Note 2—Harry Truman told me on February 21, 1956, eight months before the Israeli attack: "If I were in the White House I'd use the U. S. Sixth Fleet to stop those arms before they even got through the Bosporus."

On The Side

How accurate were the predictions as to the blessed events at your house? A Bronx mother, who was unusually anxious to know whether her expected infant would be a girl or a boy, consulted several physicians and a number of astrologers. She also took a saliva test. All predictions were that her expected child would be a boy. And so what? She gave birth to twin girls!

EXPECTANCY

The life expectancy of the average man in the United States is 69 6/10 years. According to the trade paper, the Advertising Age, the life expectancy of advertising people in this country is 57 9/10 years. That is about 12 years below the average. Not so good. Those in the advertising business should take things easier. It was Schopenhauer, who so rightly said, "The greatest mistake a man can make is to secrifice health for any other advantage."

ASKING

Queries from clients. Q. What was Anna Held's last show? Was Mary Eaton in it? A. Anna's last show was a musical titled "Follow me," which was presented in 1916. Mary Eaton had a small part in it. Q. Who is Pamela Joan Woolworth? Any relation to Barbara Hutton? A. Pamela, who is 28, and married, is Barbara's cousin. She is also in possession of much coin of the realm and apparently seeks to increase her fortune by engaging in a wide variety of business enterprises. She owns a two million acre rance on which there are 65,000 head of cattle in Paraguay, a dress shop in Miami, Fla., and a picture producing organization called Dragon Films.

SIDELIGHTS

Recently I said I had readers named Cleopatra but none named Salome. I find I have two readers in Brooklyn named Salome. It is as I am always telling you, Brooklyn has everything . . . Was the original Santa Claus a Greek? That's what a couple of New Yorkers are arguing about. Answer is in the affirmative. St. Nicholas was a Greek bishop. Santa Claus is Dutch for St. Nicholas.

PLEASE NOTE

Illegally distilled whisky, in bottles bearing counterfeit labels of famous British brands of Scotch, has been sold in Italy in large quantities. So the Italian police have just discovered. Something like that could happen here. Be careful where you buy your liquor. Also occasionally have it tested and the label checked as to being genuine.

DIAMONDS

Are diamonds, as has been alleged, "a girl's best friend?" That is, from the angle of their increasing in value as time goes by? I always thought such was the case. I was, therefore, surprised to see it reported that a 213 carat diamond necklace for which $750,000 was paid 40 years ago, in 1916, was sold recently for $385,000. A depreciation in value of almost 50 per cent!

EX-HUSBANDS

There appears to be no adequate masculine equivalent of the term divorcee. Some dictionaries deem it proper to refer to a divorced person of either sex as "a divorcee." However, to say or write "he is a divorcee" doesn't sound right. However, I can't think of a replacement for this term. Have you any suggestions? Let's try to solve this confusing situation. In the meanwhile, we can refer to divorced men simply as ex-husbands. Or courtroom widowers.

LULLABY TIME

M. L. writes: Why do I always have songs running through my head, especially when I go to bed at night?

REPLY

It must be the nightingale in you. Some songs have more staying power than others and are hard to erase from the mind. I assume you do not suffer from ringing ears, a common disturbance in certain types of deafness.

READING SPEC TIME

F. G. writes: If an eye doctor tells you that you don't need glasses now but will in a year's time, does this mean you have an eye disease?

REPLY

Not to my knowledge. I presume the physician is relying upon the law of averages, as most persons require reading glasses after age 40.

HOLDING THE BREATH

T. F. writes: For how many seconds should a healthy person be able to hold the breath?

REPLY

Many can hold the breath 30 to 60 seconds without difficulty but I'm sure the record is double or triple that time. Those with a large lung capacity are able to stash away more oxygen in a single breath, but, in my opinion, the maneuver is little more than self-torture.

Mayor Alexander said that Alexander Gardner is co-chairman of the drive; Miss Eleanor Cuthbertson is secretary-treasurer and Miss Eleanor Sloan is branch chairman.

Campaign leaders urge that all residents, business houses, and organizations in the community support the drive to help the Red Cross with its humanitarian programs. The county goal this year is $37,000, compared to $35,000 last year, Mayor Alexander noted, and each community is asked to give just a little more than last year, so this extra quota can be reached.

Frostburg Branch Red Cross Plans Campaign Office

FROSTBURG — Mrs. Rudolph Mendlesoh, chairman of the Red Cross fund drive scheduled to begin March 4, has announced that headquarters will again be established in Hotel Gunter, beginning next Wednesday. This is done, she said, to give workers a central place to make their returns.

Mrs. Mendlesoh also pointed out that funds are particularly needed in Frostburg for the continuation of the blood bank which makes four trips here annually and costs the local branch $250 per visit.

Forty-five cents of every $1 collected in Frostburg is used locally, she said, for the blood bank, travelers aid, to contact service men in case of illness or death and furnishing of food and necessities to families who lose their possessions to fire or water.

Butler Leaves Keyser Friday For Surgery

Accused Man Given Temporary Freedom

KEYSER — Howard Butler, 55, held in the Mineral County Jail in Keyser for trial for the fatal shooting of Velma Greenhorn Sharon, 43, in Piedmont several weeks ago, will leave Friday at 5 a.m. for Baltimore where he will undergo plastic surgery at Johns Hopkins Hospital. He is scheduled to leave at 5 a.m. Friday with his son and will be taken by automobile to Baltimore.

Judge Ernest A. See, in court Wednesday afternoon, called for Butler to be brought into court, and he then told the prisoner he will be permitted to make the trip for the operation, and as soon as the surgeons release him, he is to be returned to the local jail, where he will be held for trial at the next term of Mineral County Circuit Court.

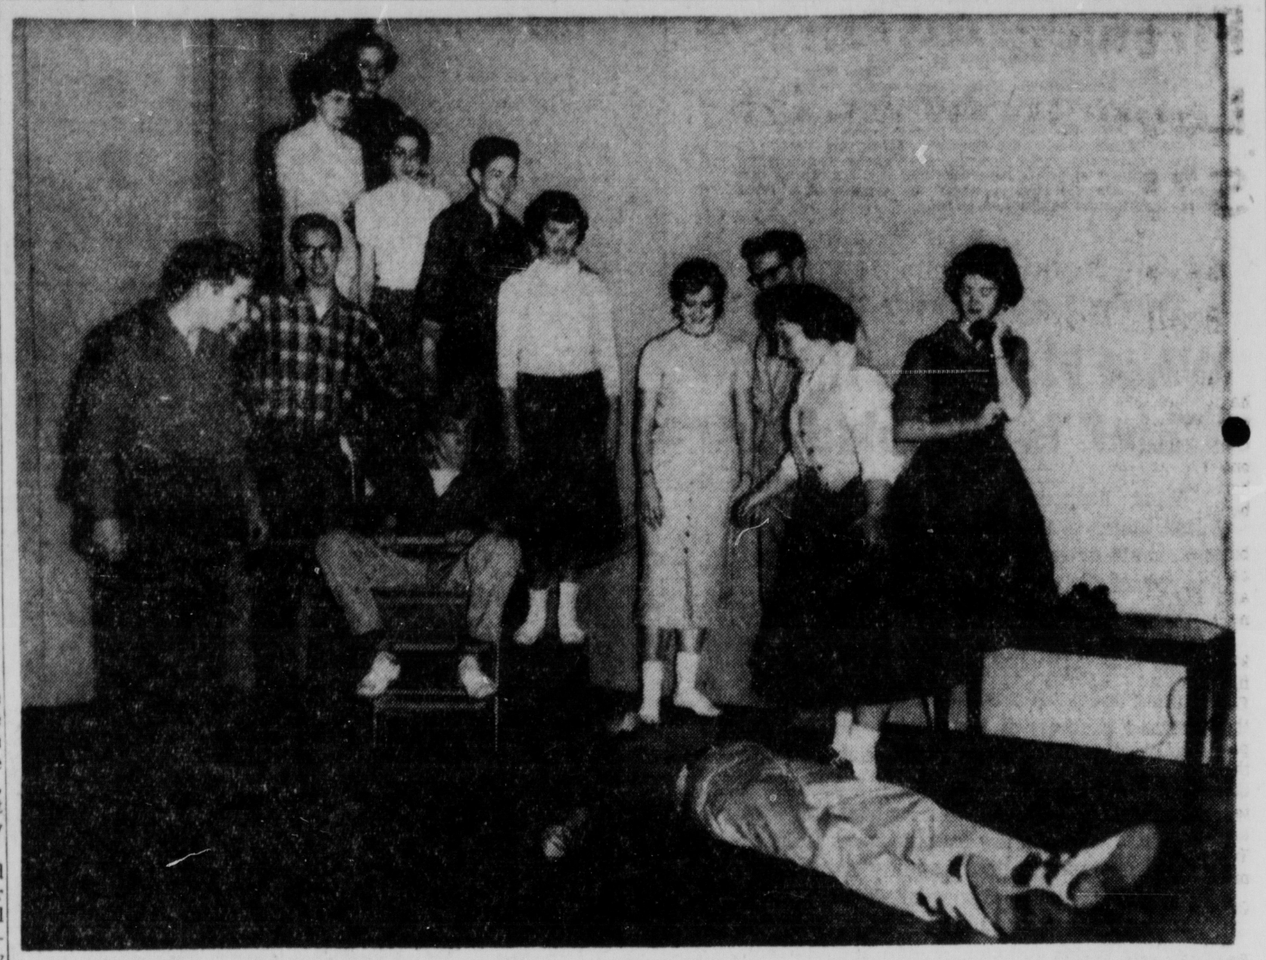

Three thousand dollars bond was furnished by his family for his one-day trip to the hospital recently for the purpose of having an examination of his jaw which was shattered by gun shot, at the time of the shooting of his woman companion. The surgeon, after Butler's examination, wrote to Judge See and explained the conditions causing the suffering to Butler, and recommended it should be taken care of immediately. The physician said it will require about a month for recovery so that he can return to the local jail.

The judge said yesterday, that the $3,000 which has been kept in court custody since the initial trip to the hospital, will be posted again in the court for security for the return of the prisoner from the hospital. In addition to this, the son, who is taking the wounded man to the hospital, has been charged with his safe return to Mineral County jail.

In court Wednesday afternoon, the prisoner was represented by his local attorney, Joseph A. Blundon. Prosecuting Attorney Donald C. Hott appeared for the state.

The court told Butler and attorneys Blundon and Hott that the court will not be responsible for any part of the fees or costs for the operations and time in the Baltimore Hospital.

It is presumed from statements of hospital specialists that Butler will be away from the jail about a month. After that time he will be returned here and will be on trial at the April term of Mineral County Circuit Court.

Hardy Co. Tops Heart Fund Quota

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Irvin D. Bowman, chairman of the Heart Fund drive in Hardy County, reports that Heart Sunday was quite successful. In the South Branch Valley area of the county, $582.39 was collected.

The Capon Valley and Lost River Valley have not reported to date and it is believed that when they do, the total will be increased considerably. Mr. Bowman hopes to make a full report soon, so that the people of Hardy County will know the final total.

The quota given Hardy County was $500 so the amount already raised takes the drive over the top. There was a definite shortage of volunteer workers, however, and it was impossible to reach each home in the county on Heart Sunday. Mr. Bowman says if any one wishes to make a donation to send it to I. D. Bowman, chairman Heart Fund Drive, Moorefield, and it will be gratefully received.

Area GOC Test Alert Successful

KEYSER—The operational capability of all Ground Observer posts located in Mineral and Allegany counties was tested during a recent alert training exercise conducted by the Pittsburgh Air Defense Filter Center. Exercises of this type are conducted from time to time to provide the volunteer observers in this area with proficiency training and to insure that they will be ready if called upon for help during any emergency.

The GOC sector sergeant for this area, T/Sgt. J. P. Hodge said recently that maximum air surveillance was obtained and the air intelligence which was received from observers, helped to complete the "air picture" with flights that may have been missed by radar.

Mayor Alexander said that Alexander Gardner is co-chairman of the drive; Miss Eleanor Cuthbertson is secretary-treasurer and Miss Eleanor Sloan is branch chairman.

Campaign leaders urge that all residents, business houses, and organizations in the community support the drive to help the Red Cross with its humanitarian programs. The county goal this year is $37,000, compared to $35,000 last year, Mayor Alexander noted, and each community is asked to give just a little more than last year, so this extra quota can be reached.

Frostburg Branch Red Cross Plans Campaign Office

FROSTBURG — Mrs. Rudolph Mendlesoh, chairman of the Red Cross fund drive scheduled to begin March 4, has announced that headquarters will again be established in Hotel Gunter, beginning next Wednesday. This is done, she said, to give workers a central place to make their returns.

Mrs. Mendlesoh also pointed out that funds are particularly needed in Frostburg for the continuation of the blood bank which makes four trips here annually and costs the local branch $250 per visit.

Forty-five cents of every $1 collected in Frostburg is used locally, she said, for the blood bank, travelers aid, to contact service men in case of illness or death and furnishing of food and necessities to families who lose their possessions to fire or water.

Hardy Co. Tops Heart Fund Quota

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Irvin D. Bowman, chairman of the Heart Fund drive in Hardy County, reports that Heart Sunday was quite successful. In the South Branch Valley area of the county, $582.39 was collected.

The Capon Valley and Lost River Valley have not reported to date and it is believed that when they do, the total will be increased considerably. Mr. Bowman hopes to make a full report soon, so that the people of Hardy Countw will know the final total.

The quota given Hardy County was $500 so the amount already raised takes the drive over the top. There was a definite shortage of volunteer workers, however, and it was impossible to reach each home in the county on Heart Sunday. Mr. Bowman says if any one wishes to make a donation to send it to I. D. Bowman, chairman Heart Fund Drive, Moorefield, and it will be gratefully received.

Butler Leaves Keyser Friday For Surgery

Accused Man Given Temporary Freedom

KEYSER — Howard Butler, 55, held in the Mineral County Jail in Keyser for trial for the fatal shooting of Velma Greenhorn Sharon, 43, in Piedmont several weeks ago, will leave Friday at 5 a.m. for Baltimore where he will undergo plastic surgery at Johns Hopkins Hospital. He is scheduled to leave at 5 a.m. Friday with his son and will be taken by automobile to Baltimore.

Judge Ernest A. See, in court Wednesday afternoon, called for Butler to be brought into court, and he then told the prisoner he will be permitted to make the trip for the operation, and as soon as the surgeons release him, he is to be returned to the local jail, where he will be held for trial at the next term of Mineral County Circuit Court.

Three thousand dollars bond was furnished by his family for his one-day trip to the hospital recently for the purpose of having an examination of his jaw which was shattered by gun shot, at the time of the shooting of his woman companion. The surgeon, after Butler's examination, wrote to Judge See and explained the conditions causing the suffering to Butler, and recommended it should be taken care of immediately. The physician said it will require about a month for recovery so that he can return to the local jail.

The judge said yesterday, that the $3,000 which has been kept in court custody since the initial trip to the hospital, will be posted again in the court for security for the return of the prisoner from the hospital. In addition to this, the son, who is taking the wounded man to the hospital, has been charged with his safe return to Mineral County jail.

In court Wednesday afternoon, the prisoner was represented by his local attorney, Joseph A. Blundon. Prosecuting Attorney Donald C. Hott appeared for the state.

The court told Butler and attorneys Blundon and Hott that the court will not be responsible for any part of the fees or costs for the operations and time in the Baltimore Hospital.

It is presumed from statements of hospital specialists that Butler will be away from the jail about a month. After that time he will be returned here and will be on trial at the April term of Mineral County Circuit Court.

The GOC sector sergeant for this area, T/Sgt. J. P. Hodge said recently that maximum air surveillance was obtained and the air intelligence which was received from observers, helped to complete the "air picture" with flights that may have been missed by radar.

Firemen At Parsons Launch Probe Of $75,000 Fire Loss

Seven Buildings Badly Damaged

PARSONS, W. Va. — Firemen have launched an investigation into the cause of a raging fire that damaged seven buildings, one a total loss, and left a family homeless Tuesday night in the business district here.

The fire, which originated in a building owned by Leo H. Goss, caused injuries to three persons and plunged Parsons into darkness for approximately two hours.

The blaze was discovered about 9:20 p. m. and was battled by firemen from Elkins, Thomas, Davis and Parsons. Members of the Parsons Volunteer Fire Company remained on the scene throughout the night and continued working in the area yesterday. The fire was brought under control about 11 p. m. Total damage was estimated at more than $75,000.

Covers Half Block

John Kenney, fire chief at Parsons, said the extent of the damage could not be determined fully and that the persons involved were reluctant to give estimates.

The blaze engulfed a half block of wooden structures on the west side of Walnut Street, destroying an appliance store owned by Goss, a bowling alley, flower shop, dwelling house and several apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Miller and their child were left homeless when the blaze and intense heat destroyed their three-room apartment located on the second floor of the Goss building. The family lost all clothing and furniture and moved into the home of Mrs. Miller's mother.

Goss's store contained a new stock of television sets, deep freezes, stoves and refrigerators. The stock and building were a total loss.

Woman Loses Belongings

Another building, owned by Joseph Blackwood, contained a flower shop and was also damaged extensively. The rear of this structure was occupied by Mrs. Minnie Collins who lost everything except the clothing she was wearing when the blaze broke out.

A third building, owned by Mrs. S. S. Ford, also suffered considerable damage caused by water and smoke. The frame dwelling included a grocery store operated by James P. Baker, the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Long, Mrs. Delphia Lipscomb and Mrs. Harriett Shaffer and a furniture store operated by Mrs. Blaine Corrick.

The fourth building badly damaged was owned by Mrs. Olie Thompson and was divided into two six-room dwellings. The structure was filled with smoke and suffered a lot of water damage.

A small building owned by Wayne K. Pritt and occupied by Mrs. Beuna Phillips was also damaged.

Stopped Ball Game

The flames also took their toll on the opposite side of the street in a building owned by the Greenlief Funeral Home and the Minear Building which housed several offices. The damage included broken windows, charred frames, and water and smoke loss.

Firemen said the intense heat melted parking meter tops located in front of the burned-out establishments.

Goss was treated for shock, while two firemen, Cover Jolly and Bruce Whetzel, both of Parsons, were treated at the Tucker County Hospital in Parsons. Both firemen were cut by broken glass.

When the blaze started many residents of the community were attending a basketball game between Parsons and Elkins high schools. Parsons was leading 55-48 with two minutes to play, when the power failed, stopping the cage contest.

Mt. Savage D. Of A. Plans Project

MT. SAVAGE — The Past Councilors Club of Pride of Mt. Savage Council No. 20, Daughters of America, met at the home of Mrs. Thomas Adams with Mrs. Sara Uhl presiding. The club plans to sell vanilla as a means of raising funds. Games were played and a prize awarded to Mrs. Hazel Swauger.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Howard Smith, March 13.

Ritchie Named Director Of Relief Unit

Board To Meet Friday, March 8

PIEDMONT — Wayne Ritchie, who has served as chairman of the United Organizations for a number of years, has been selected as executive director of the group.

Other officers named are Elmer J. Shaver, chairman; Charles E. Hickerson, vice chairman and Mrs. Holmes Haywood, secretary-treasurer. The board of directors includes Miss Ida Ruth Price, Alton Fortney, Mrs. Virginia Wiltison, William Thompson and Mrs. Benjamin Mamolen.

These officers were unanimously elected following the report of the nominating committee headed by Elmer J. Shaver. Mrs. Virginia Wiltison, chairman of the policy committee, read the following suggestions of the group:

That an office be set up in the store room of the organization; that a handicapped person be in the office so many days a week or month to fill out applications for persons wishing to apply for aid; that the office be open every day two weeks before Christmas; that a committee to approve applications be named; that enough committees be named to investigate circumstances of the families applying; that someone be selected to take charge of the foodstuff pickup, clothing and manning of kettles at Christmas time; to keep in contact with welfare boards in Allegany County and Mineral County.

That an emergency committee be established for visiting houses where relief is given, and if necessary make them clean up the homes or be reported to proper law authorities, and that an organization or church group sponsor a family for a year or so.

The problems of the organization are increasing, Ritchie declared, and there are six to 10 families in the Tri-Towns that should try to get work or be taken off the relief list.

A meeting of the board of directors will be held Friday, March 8, at 7 p. m. in the office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, Ashfield Street, to consider recommendations offered by the policy committee.

Monday's meeting was opened by Alton Fortney and prayers were given by Charles E. Hickerson. Other members of the policy committee, besides Mrs. Wiltison, are Mrs. Lilliam Miller, Lonnie Marsh, Rev. E. W. Welford, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, Westernport, and Mrs. Anita Lutman. Another general meeting will be called in three months.

Moorefield Feels Sonic Barrier Boom

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — A pressure wave jarred homes and rattled windows in Moorefield Sunday about 5:15 p. m. causing minor excitement and much conversation.

A jet contrail across the sky from east to west was the only evidence that a jet may have broken through the sound barrier causing the sonic boom. People in houses with tightly closed doors and windows felt the jar more than those who were outside.

No other explosions were recorded in the area.

W-L Lions Club Aids Heart Fund

WESTERNPORT — Regular dinner meeting of the Westernport and Luke Lions Club will be held today at 6:30 p. m. in the social room of Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church.

Rodney Baker, chairman of the civic improvement committee, will be in charge of the progarm. A meeting of the board of directors will follow.

The club recently donated $10 each to the Heart Fund of Allegany County Maryland and to Mineral County, W. Va.

Frostburg Girl Scouts Plan Annual Observance

FROSTBURG—The Frostburg Girl Scout Leaders Association met recently at First Methodist Church to formulate plans for the observance of Girl Scout Week, March 10 to 17.

All Girl Scouts and Brownies will attend church services Sunday, March 10, and various dinners will be held during the week for the different units. Troop 3 will have a family dinner at Layman's Farm, Route 40 west of Frostburg, on March 13 at 6:15 p. m. Senior Scout Troop 4 will hold a covered dish supper in the scout room of First Methodist Church on March 13.

All Brownie troops will hold a mother-daughter dinner in the dining room at Frostburg State Teachers College on March 12, and all Intermediate Girl Scouts will hold a mother-daughter dinner in the college dining room on March 14.

Plans were discussed for the various window displays to mark Girl Scout Week. Brownie troops will collaborate upon a display to be placed in the window of the Elias Tailor Shop. Intermediate Scouts will arrange a display in the windows of the Hafer Furniture Store and the Senior Scouts will utilize the windows of the Frostburg Public Library for their display of crafts.

Southern Garrett County Contributes $1,253.71 In Annual Heart Campaign

OAKLAND — The Southern District of Garrett County has contributed a total of $1,253.71 in the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association fund campaign according to Mrs. Irvin Feld, chairman for the district. This is twice as much money as was raised the same area last year, and does not include funds collected in Northern Garrett County, where a report is being completed. Garrett County's goal in the $16,015 campaign is $2,000.

Mrs. Feld expressed her thanks to all who worked on the drive and to all who contributed. "Per capita giving was very generous," she said, "and since all of the communities involved in the organized effort are small, the amounts raised are surprising." She declared, "the people in Garrett County are most certainly aware of the good work the Heart Association is doing here, and of the need for funds to continue this local program as well as the program in national heart research."

Mrs. Feld said, because of the wide interest and the broad, wholehearted cooperation of residents of the county, she wanted to make her report as early as possible. She indicated, however, that this is a partial report and there are a few scattered returns and some additional contributions to be received.

Kitzmiller, Mrs. Gerald Iman, chairman, $137; Mt. Lake Park, Mrs. Robert Sincell, chairman, $56.51; Loch Lynn, Mrs. Alfred Marucci, $71.38; Deer Park, Mrs. Grant Friend, $50.01.

Gorman, Mrs. R. K. Dilguard, $56.08; McHenry, Mrs. Earle Glotfelty, $8.10; Deep Creek Village, Mrs. Alfred Friend, $15; North Glade, Mrs. James Fitzwater, $26.15.

Crellin, Mrs. Vonda McIntyre, $47; Rosedale, Mrs. Henry Trickett, $24.98; Hutton, Mrs. Joseph Frantz, $9.39; Oakland, Mrs. Feld, chairman, Heart Sunday $357.11 and business and organizations, $395.

Community leaders here in learning of the success of the campaign and the response of each community to the appeal for funds, noted that the drive was especially well planned and organized by Mrs. Feld and her assistants, and that it was one of the most fruitful campaigns of its kind ever attempted in this section of the county.

The amounts reported, in almost every instance, are the result of the house-to-house solicitation on the afternoon of Heart Sunday.

Mrs. Feld said some mail response has been received from envelopes left at homes where residents were out when the solicitor called. She urges that each resident who has not contributed, mail a nominal gift in the envelope so a complete report can be tabulated and the drive closed. Gifts mailed to the Heart office in Cumberland, she explained, are credited to the Garrett County quota and to the community where each originates.

Firemen At Parsons Launch Probe Of $75,000 Fire Loss

Seven Buildings Badly Damaged

PARSONS, W. Va. — Firemen have launched an investigation into the cause of a raging fire that damaged seven buildings, one a total loss, and left a family homeless Tuesday night in the business district here.

The fire, which originated in a building owned by Leo H. Goss, caused injuries to three persons and plunged Parsons into darkness for approximately two hours.

The blaze was discovered about 9:20 p. m. and was battled by firemen from Elkins, Thomas, Davis and Parsons. Members of the Parsons Volunteer Fire Company remained on the scene throughout the night and continued working in the area yesterday. The fire was brought under control about 11 p. m. Total damage was estimated at more than $75,000.

Covers Half Block

John Kenney, fire chief at Parsons, said the extent of the damage could not be determined fully and that the persons involved were reluctant to give estimates.

The blaze engulfed a half block of wooden structures on the west side of Walnut Street, destroying an appliance store owned by Goss, a bowling alley, flower shop, dwelling house and several apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Miller and their child were left homeless when the blaze and intense heat destroyed their three-room apartment located on the second floor of the Goss building. The family lost all clothing and furniture and moved into the home of Mrs. Miller's mother.

Goss's store contained a new stock of television sets, deep freezes, stoves and refrigerators. The stock and building were a total loss.

Woman Loses Belongings

Another building, owned by Joseph Blackwood, contained a flower shop and was also damaged extensively. The rear of this structure was occupied by Mrs. Minnie Collins who lost everything except the clothing she was wearing when the blaze broke out.

A third building, owned by Mrs. S. S. Ford, also suffered considerable damage caused by water and smoke. The frame dwelling included a grocery store operated by James P. Baker, the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Long, Mrs. Delphia Lipscomb and Mrs. Harriett Shaffer and a furniture store operated by Mrs. Blaine Corrick.

The fourth building badly damaged was owned by Mrs. Olie Thompson and was divided into two six-room dwellings. The structure was filled with smoke and suffered a lot of water damage.

A small building owned by Wayne K. Pritt and occupied by Mrs. Beuna Phillips was also damaged.

Stopped Ball Game

The flames also took their toll on the opposite side of the street in a building owned by the Greenlief Funeral Home and the Minear Building which housed several offices. The damage included broken windows, charred frames, and water and smoke loss.

Firemen said the intense heat melted parking meter tops located in front of the burned-out establishments.

Goss was treated for shock, while two firemen, Cover Jolly and Bruce Whetzel, both of Parsons, were treated at the Tucker County Hospital in Parsons. Both firemen were cut by broken glass.

When the blaze started many residents of the community were attending a basketball game between Parsons and Elkins high schools. Parsons was leading 55-48 with two minutes to play, when the power failed, stopping the cage contest.

Ritchie Named Director Of Relief Unit

Board To Meet Friday, March 8

PIEDMONT — Wayne Ritchie, who has served as chairman of the United Organizations for a number of years, has been selected as executive director of the group.

Other officers named are Elmer J. Shaver, chairman; Charles E. Hickerson, vice chairman and Mrs. Holmes Haywood, secretary-treasurer. The board of directors includes Miss Ida Ruth Price, Alton Fortney, Mrs. Virginia Wiltison, William Thompson and Mrs. Benjamin Mamolen.

These officers were unanimously elected following the report of the nominating committee headed by Elmer J. Shaver. Mrs. Virginia Wiltison, chairman of the policy committee, read the following suggestions of the group:

That an office be set up in the store room of the organization; that a handicapped person be in the office so many days a week or month to fill out applications for persons wishing to apply for aid; that the office be open every day two weeks before Christmas; that a committee to approve applications be named; that enough committees be named to investigate circumstances of the families applying; that someone be selected to take charge of the foodstuff pickup, clothing and manning of kettles at Christmas time; to keep in contact with welfare boards in Allegany County and Mineral County.

That an emergency committee be established for visiting houses where relief is given, and if necessary make them clean up the homes or be reported to proper law authorities, and that an organization or church group sponsor a family for a year or so.

The problems of the organization are increasing, Ritchie declared, and there are six to 10 families in the Tri-Towns that should try to get work or be taken off the relief list.

A meeting of the board of directors will be held Friday, March 8, at 7 p. m. in the office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, Ashfield Street, to consider recommendations offered by the policy committee.

Monday's meeting was opened by Alton Fortney and prayers were given by Charles E. Hickerson. Other members of the policy committee, besides Mrs. Wiltison, are Mrs. Lilliam Miller, Lonnie Marsh, Rev. E. W. Welford, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, Westernport, and Mrs. Anita Lutman. Another general meeting will be called in three months.

Moorefield Feels Sonic Barrier Boom

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — A pressure wave jarred homes and rattled windows in Moorefield Sunday about 5:15 p. m. causing minor excitement and much conversation.

A jet contrail across the sky from east to west was the only evidence that a jet may have broken through the sound barrier causing the sonic boom. People in houses with tightly closed doors and windows felt the jar more than those who were outside.

No other explosions were recorded in the area.

W-L Lions Club Aids Heart Fund

WESTERNPORT — Regular dinner meeting of the Westernport and Luke Lions Club will be held today at 6:30 p. m. in the social room of Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church.

Rodney Baker, chairman of the civic improvement committee, will be in charge of the progarm. A meeting of the board of directors will follow.

The club recently donated $10 each to the Heart Fund of Allegany County Maryland and to Mineral County, W. Va.

Mt. Savage D. Of A. Plans Project

MT. SAVAGE — The Past Councilors Club of Pride of Mt. Savage Council No. 20, Daughters of America, met at the home of Mrs. Thomas Adams with Mrs. Sara Uhl presiding. The club plans to sell vanilla as a means of raising funds. Games were played and a prize awarded to Mrs. Hazel Swauger.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Howard Smith, March 13.

Frostburg Girl Scouts Plan Annual Observance

FROSTBURG—The Frostburg Girl Scout Leaders Association met recently at First Methodist Church to formulate plans for the observance of Girl Scout Week, March 10 to 17.

All Girl Scouts and Brownies will attend church services Sunday, March 10, and various dinners will be held during the week for the different units. Troop 3 will have a family dinner at Layman's Farm, Route 40 west of Frostburg, on March 13 at 6:15 p. m. Senior Scout Troop 4 will hold a covered dish supper in the scout room of First Methodist Church on March 13.

All Brownie troops will hold a mother-daughter dinner in the dining room at Frostburg State Teachers College on March 12, and all Intermediate Girl Scouts will hold a mother-daughter dinner in the college dining room on March 14.

Plans were discussed for the various window displays to mark Girl Scout Week. Brownie troops will collaborate upon a display to be placed in the window of the Elias Tailor Shop. Intermediate Scouts will arrange a display in the windows of the Hafer Furniture Store and the Senior Scouts will utilize the windows of the Frostburg Public Library for their display of crafts.

Southern Garrett County Contributes $1,253.71 In Annual Heart Campaign

OAKLAND — The Southern District of Garrett County has contributed a total of $1,253.71 in the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association fund campaign according to Mrs. Irvin Feld, chairman for the district. This is twice as much money as was raised the same area last year, and does not include funds collected in Northern Garrett County, where a report is being completed. Garrett County's goal in the $16,015 campaign is $2,000.

Mrs. Feld expressed her thanks to all who worked on the drive and to all who contributed. "Per capita giving was very generous," she said, "and since all of the communities involved in the organized effort are small, the amounts raised are surprising." She declared, "the people in Garrett County are most certainly aware of the good work the Heart Association is doing here, and of the need for funds to continue this local program as well as the program in national heart research."

Mrs. Feld said, because of the wide interest and the broad, wholehearted cooperation of residents of the county, she wanted to make her report as early as possible. She indicated, however, that this is a partial report and there are a few scattered returns and some additional contributions to be received.

The tabulation in her section of the county shows the following collections:

Crellin, Mrs. Vonda McIntyre, $47; Rosedale, Mrs. Henry Trickett, $24.98; Hutton, Mrs. Joseph Frantz, $9.39; Oakland, Mrs. Feld, chairman, Heart Sunday $357.11 and business and organizations, $395.

Tech Belts A-B In NAIA Finals

GLENVILLE, W. Va., Feb. 27 (AP)—West Virginia Tech belted Alderson-Broaddus 85-75 tonight in the finals of the District 28 NAIA basketball playoffs.

Tech thus won the right to represent the state's small colleges in the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament at Kansas City, Mo., March 11-16.

Sophomore Dick Brown, considered the most underrated player on the team, led the Golden Bears by pitching in 22 points. The long lanky forward made up for the scoring lapse of Kenny Hammond who netted only 13 points—his lowest of the campaign. Hammond, the nation's leading scorer, played only about 16 minutes of the contest.

Swim Meet Opens

Earl Nonnenmann Will Head Hot Stove League

Plans Discussed For New Season

Earl M. Nonnenmann last night was elected new president of the Cumberland Hot Stove League at the annual election, meeting at City Hall.

Others elected include George Flynn, vice president; H. Frank Hinze, re-elected secretary, and Allan T. Hirsh, treasurer.

Howard L. Northcraft, the retiring president, turned over the gavel to Nonnenmann, who once before had served as president of the baseball league for 13 and 14-year-old boys.

One of the first activities will be a membership campaign designed to bring 400 sponsoring members in the organization. Flynn agreed to serve as membership chairman. Joseph C. Felten and Northcraft will assist.

Another discussion involved a new sponsor for a team to succeed the Times-News entry which no longer will participate in the league. The American Legion and Civitan Club were suggested as being interested in taking over the eighth club in the circuit. Other sponsors are Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Optimists, Exchange, B'nai B'rith and Jaycees.

The league hopes to arrange a 21-game schedule for each participating team. That would require each team to play the other seven teams three times.

Representatives at last night's meeting agreed that the proposal charter amendment which would consolidate the parks and recreation departments into a single organization would assist the league in the maintenance of ball diamonds on which the eight clubs will play.

The next league meeting is scheduled for March 27 at the City Hall when all sponsors are supposed to bring payment for their team insurance.

Calhoun Victor Over Cotton

DENVER, Feb. 27 (AP)—Young Rory Calhoun, fifth-ranked middleweight, bent to his work at the midpoint of the fight and punched out a split decision over Charley Cotton in their 10-round televised bout here tonight.

Calhoun, of White Plains, N. Y., weighed 160 to 155½ for his older opponent, who hails from Toledo, Ohio.

Judge Jack Bloom scored it 48-43 for Calhoun and judge Jack Ullmer saw it 49-46 for the winner. Referee Ray Keech gave the counter-punching Cotton the edge, 48-47. The AP card had it 48-42 for Calhoun.

Longden Fails In Bid For 5,000 Wins

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 27 (INS)—Jockey Johnny Longden tried three times today, but failed to boot in the winner that would have boosted his career total to 5,000 victories.

In fact, Longden drew a complete blank with his three mounts at Santa Anita today. He failed to finish in the money with any of them.

The millionaire grandfather jockey, a rider for 30 years, rode his 4,999th winner yesterday and had hoped to increase his total to an even 5,000 today.

Measure Will Exempt Sports

Takes Games From Antitrust Laws

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Chairman Harris (D-Ask) of the House Commerce Committee today introduced a bill to expressly exempt professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey from federal antitrust laws.

The expressed purpose of the legislation is to make it "clear to the courts that Congress does not intend the conduct of these four major sports to be subject to the antitrust laws of this country."

Harris' bill stemmed from Monday's Supreme Court ruling that professional football—unlike professional baseball—is subject to the antitrust laws.

Another lawmaker, Rep. Miller (R-NY), said Congress should include both professional baseball and football under anti-trust laws or exempt both sports.

The determination either way, Miller said, should be decided after a "full and thorough" congressional investigation.

Miller, a member of the House Judiciary Committee, said he would ask Chairman Celler (D-NY) to conduct such an investigation at the earliest possible date.

Miller said he feels that both sports are being operated and regulated "by men of honor and integrity" and that neither "is in any way dishonest or infiltrated by gamblers or racketeers."

Tech Belts A-B In NAIA Finals

GLENVILLE, W. Va., Feb. 27 (AP)—West Virginia Tech belted Alderson-Broaddus 85-75 tonight in the finals of the District 28 NAIA basketball playoffs.

Tech thus won the right to represent the state's small colleges in the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament at Kansas City, Mo., March 11-16.

Sophomore Dick Brown, considered the most underrated player on the team, led the Golden Bears by pitching in 22 points. The long lanky forward made up for the scoring lapse of Kenny Hammond who netted only 13 points—his lowest of the campaign. Hammond, the nation's leading scorer, played only about 16 minutes of the contest.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Feb. 27 (AP)—The annual Atlantic Coast Conference Swimming Championships will open here tomorrow night with the 1,500 meters freestyle finals.

Earl Nonnenmann Will Head Hot Stove League

Plans Discussed For New Season

Earl M. Nonnenmann last night was elected new president of the Cumberland Hot Stove League at the annual election, meeting at City Hall.

Others elected include George Flynn, vice president; H. Frank Hinze, re-elected secretary, and Allan T. Hirsh, treasurer.

Howard L. Northcraft, the retiring president, turned over the gavel to Nonnenmann, who once before had served as president of the baseball league for 13 and 14-year-old boys.

One of the first activities will be a membership campaign designed to bring 400 sponsoring members in the organization. Flynn agreed to serve as membership chairman. Joseph C. Felten and Northcraft will assist.

Another discussion involved a new sponsor for a team to succeed the Times-News entry which no longer will participate in the league. The American Legion and Civitan Club were suggested as being interested in taking over the eighth club in the circuit. Other sponsors are Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Optimists, Exchange, B'nai B'rith and Jaycees.

The league hopes to arrange a 21-game schedule for each participating team. That would require each team to play the other seven teams three times.

Representatives at last night's meeting agreed that the proposal charter amendment which would consolidate the parks and recreation departments into a single organization would assist the league in the maintenance of ball diamonds on which the eight clubs will play.

The next league meeting is scheduled for March 27 at the City Hall when all sponsors are supposed to bring payment for their team insurance.

Calhoun Victor Over Cotton

DENVER, Feb. 27 (AP)—Young Rory Calhoun, fifth-ranked middleweight, bent to his work at the midpoint of the fight and punched out a split decision over Charley Cotton in their 10-round televised bout here tonight.

Calhoun, of White Plains, N. Y., weighed 160 to 155½ for his older opponent, who hails from Toledo, Ohio.

Judge Jack Bloom scored it 48-43 for Calhoun and judge Jack Ullmer saw it 49-46 for the winner. Referee Ray Keech gave the counter-punching Cotton the edge, 48-47. The AP card had it 48-42 for Calhoun.

Longden Fails In Bid For 5,000 Wins

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 27 (INS)—Jockey Johnny Longden tried three times today, but failed to boot in the winner that would have boosted his career total to 5,000 victories.

In fact, Longden drew a complete blank with his three mounts at Santa Anita today. He failed to finish in the money with any of them.

The millionaire grandfather jockey, a rider for 30 years, rode his 4,999th winner yesterday and had hoped to increase his total to an even 5,000 today.

CCNY Accepts Bid To NCAA Cage Tourney

First Berth Since Scandal Of 1951

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP) — City College of New York, a former major college basketball power which gave up its big time pretensions after the fixing scandals of 1951, today accepted an invitation to play in the NCAA Small College Tournament.

This will mark the first appearance of a CCNY basketball team in national competition since its great 1950 outfit won both the NCAA and National Invitation Tournaments within a space of two weeks.

Tournament play and appearances in the big non-college arenas by the school were banned in 1951 after it was revealed that at least a half dozen CCNY players, including all the 1950 regulars, had accepted bribes from gamblers and had participated in fixing the results of games.

Today Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, CCNY president, hailed the bid to the small college tournament as a "fitting climax" to one of the college's most successful seasons.

CCNY, picked as an "at large" team entry in the 32-college tournament, will play its first game Monday, March 4, against Mt. St. Mary's College at Emmitsburg, Md. The winners in the first round will play second round games at campus locations and eight survivors will go to Evansville, Ind., for the final competition March 13-15. This is the first year for the NCAA's Small College Tournament.

Mt. St. Mary's was the regular season champion in the Mason-Dixon Conference, made up of several small college teams in Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

CCNY has a current record of 11 victories and five defeats with two regular-season games remaining. One is against St. John's in Brooklyn, March 2, and the other against NYU March 5.

CCNY was hard hit by the 1951 basketball scandals, which involved some 35 players from seven college teams. Its last two games of the 1951 season were canceled and a rigid policy of controls was instituted when investigation revealed irregularities in admitting players to college.

Nat Holman, coach at that time, was suspended and regained his job after a two year struggle. He is on leave this season and the current team is coached by Dave Polansky. A one-year probation imposed by the NCAA as a result of the scandals was terminated in October, 1955.

N.Y. Catcher Bill Sarni Has Heart Attack

Seizure Ends Ball Career For Athlete

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 27 (AP)—The brief four-year major league baseball career of Bill Sarni came to an end today when doctors determined the 29-year-old New York Giant catcher suffered a heart attack in Monday's opening workout.

Tests and X-ray pictures taken in the last two days convinced physicians that the first string catcher suffered a moderate coronary attack. The seizure originally was described as a muscle spasm.

Sarni came to the Giants on June 14 last year in an eight-player trade with the St. Louis Cards also involving Red Schoendienst and Alvin Dark. He batted .254 in 121 games.

Club President Horace Stoneham said the doctors felt at the start that Sarni had suffered a coronary attack but were reluctant to say so because of his youth.

"The doctors told me that Bill is the second youngest man he ever treated for a heart attack," said Stoneham. "They said the attack was similar to the one suffered by President Eisenhower. Sarni will be able to live normally otherwise but they told me he never will be able to play baseball again."

Stoneham added that Sarni will be kept in a Phoenix Hospital for another month and then will be given a long rest. He is two-thirds of a year short of having been in the National League five years and Stoneham indicated he might be kept on as a coach to insure him of getting a five-year pension.

Sarni began his professional career with Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League in 1943. He played in various other minor leagues, spent the 1946 season in the Army and was brought up to the Cards in 1951.

Now, only two catchers are left on the Giants' roster—weak-hitting Wes Westrum and Bob Schmidt, a rookie from Dallas of the Texas League.

Sarni's attack probably will increase the Giants' efforts to land another backstop. Recent reports have said they were dickering with the Cincinnati Redlegs for Forrest (Smoky) Burgess.

Pan-Am Games Head Deplores Congress Plan

1959 Program Faces Money Cancellation

DETROIT, Feb. 27 (AP)—Saying he was "shocked" by reports that Congress is ready to kill a five-million-dollar appropriation to help finance the Pan American Games in Cleveland in 1959, Douglas F. Roby, president of the games committee, today said:

"If the games are cancelled because Congress doesn't provide the money after promising it, the United States will have internationally disgraced itself. And I doubt if the games will be held at all."

Rep. Vanik (D-Ohio) said yesterday he had been advised by key members of the House Appropriations Committee that the proposed measure probably won't even be submitted for House action.

Congress last year authorized federal participation in the games.

"If Cleveland doesn't take the games I'm afraid they will have to be called off for 1959," said Roby. "Certainly they cannot be held anywhere else in the United States. Guatamala City wanted them, but even though it has the facilities I'm afraid its too late to move them anywhere now."

Roby, who, following custom was elected to head the games committee on the theory that the event would be held in the United States for the first time in 1959, said:

"There are 29 nations in the Pan American sports organization. To them the United States is a world leader. We take up the proposition and blow up on it at a time when it's too late to bring in a substitute city.

"There has been much public apathy toward the games in Cleveland since it got the bid two years ago. We almost pulled out of there last August, but when the government promised to help it was like a shot in the arm. At that time Cleveland assured us everything was in good order, even when Guatamala City and Rio De Janeiro were anxious to have them."

Cleveland Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze said failure to get the 5 million dollars would "seriously jeopardize" his city's ability to stage the games. And Sen. Lausche (D-Ohio), who came out yesterday to shelve the federal grant, received a letter from Celebreeze saying the mayor was "surprised and stunned" by Lausche's opposition. He urged Lausche to reconsider.

CCNY Accepts Bid To NCAA Cage Tourney

First Berth Since Scandal Of 1951

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP) — City College of New York, a former major college basketball power which gave up its big time pretensions after the fixing scandals of 1951, today accepted an invitation to play in the NCAA Small College Tournament.

This will mark the first appearance of a CCNY basketball team in national competition since its great 1950 outfit won both the NCAA and National Invitation Tournaments within a space of two weeks.

Tournament play and appearances in the big non-college arenas by the school were banned in 1951 after it was revealed that at least a half dozen CCNY players, including all the 1950 regulars, had accepted bribes from gamblers and had participated in fixing the results of games.

Today Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, CCNY president, hailed the bid to the small college tournament as a "fitting climax" to one of the college's most successful seasons.

CCNY, picked as an "at large" team entry in the 32-college tournament, will play its first game Monday, March 4, against Mt. St. Mary's College at Emmitsburg, Md. The winners in the first round will play second round games at campus locations and eight survivors will go to Evansville, Ind., for the final competition March 13-15. This is the first year for the NCAA's Small College Tournament.

Mt. St. Mary's was the regular season champion in the Mason-Dixon Conference, made up of several small college teams in Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

CCNY has a current record of 11 victories and five defeats with two regular-season games remaining. One is against St. John's in Brooklyn, March 2, and the other against NYU March 5.

Hein Is Rehired

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27 (AP) — Line Coach Mel Hein today was rehired by Head Coach Don Clark of the University of Southern California and is the only veteran tutor engaged thus far by Clark.

Will your chance to buy those things you so deeply desire vanish like a shadow for lack of cash? Or are you accumulating a substantial reserve now? An endowment policy builds up savings and gives protection, too. Ask how little it costs.

N.Y. Catcher Bill Sarni Has Heart Attack

Seizure Ends Ball Career For Athlete

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 27 (AP)—The brief four-year major league baseball career of Bill Sarni came to an end today when doctors determined the 29-year-old New York Giant catcher suffered a heart attack in Monday's opening workout.

Tests and X-ray pictures taken in the last two days convinced physicians that the first string catcher suffered a moderate coronary attack. The seizure originally was described as a muscle spasm.

Sarni came to the Giants on June 14 last year in an eight-player trade with the St. Louis Cards also involving Red Schoendienst and Alvin Dark. He batted .254 in 121 games.

Club President Horace Stoneham said the doctors felt at the start that Sarni had suffered a coronary attack but were reluctant to say so because of his youth.

"The doctors told me that Bill is the second youngest man he ever treated for a heart attack," said Stoneham. "They said the attack was similar to the one suffered by President Eisenhower. Sarni will be able to live normally otherwise but they told me he never will be able to play baseball again."

Stoneham added that Sarni will be kept in a Phoenix Hospital for another month and then will be given a long rest. He is two-thirds of a year short of having been in the National League five years and Stoneham indicated he might be kept on as a coach to insure him of getting a five-year pension.

Sarni began his professional career with Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League in 1943. He played in various other minor leagues, spent the 1946 season in the Army and was brought up to the Cards in 1951.

Now, only two catchers are left on the Giants' roster—weak-hitting Wes Westrum and Bob Schmidt, a rookie from Dallas of the Texas League.

Sarni's attack probably will increase the Giants' efforts to land another backstop. Recent reports have said they were dickering with the Cincinnati Redlegs for Forrest (Smoky) Burgess.

Pan-Am Games Head Deplores Congress Plan

1959 Program Faces Money Cancellation

DETROIT, Feb. 27 (AP)—Saying he was "shocked" by reports that Congress is ready to kill a five-million-dollar appropriation to help finance the Pan American Games in Cleveland in 1959, Douglas F. Roby, president of the games committee, today said:

"If the games are cancelled because Congress doesn't provide the money after promising it, the United States will have internationally disgraced itself. And I doubt if the games will be held at all."

Rep. Vanik (D-Ohio) said yesterday he had been advised by key members of the House Appropriations Committee that the proposed measure probably won't even be submitted for House action.

Congress last year authorized federal participation in the games.

"If Cleveland doesn't take the games I'm afraid they will have to be called off for 1959," said Roby. "Certainly they cannot be held anywhere else in the United States. Guatamala City wanted them, but even though it has the facilities I'm afraid its too late to move them anywhere now."

Roby, who, following custom was elected to head the games committee on the theory that the event would be held in the United States for the first time in 1959, said:

"There are 29 nations in the Pan American sports organization. To them the United States is a world leader. We take up the proposition and blow up on it at a time when it's too late to bring in a substitute city.

"There has been much public apathy toward the games in Cleveland since it got the bid two years ago. We almost pulled out of there last August, but when the government promised to help it was like a shot in the arm. At that time Cleveland assured us everything was in good order, even when Guatamala City and Rio De Janeiro were anxious to have them."

Cleveland Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze said failure to get the 5 million dollars would "seriously jeopardize" his city's ability to stage the games. And Sen. Lausche (D-Ohio), who came out yesterday to shelve the federal grant, received a letter from Celebreeze saying the mayor was "surprised and stunned" by Lausche's opposition. He urged Lausche to reconsider.

7 Colts Entered In Flamingo Stakes

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 27 (AP) — It appeared today that at least seven 3-year-old colts will run in Saturday's $100,000 added Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah with an off tack likely for the rich mile and an eighth feature.

Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler was the 4 to 5 choice. The Calumet Farm entry of Gen Duke and Iron Liege was 6 to 5 in the early line.

Dick May Miss 1957 Grid Season

PALO ALTO, Calif., Feb. 27 (AP)—Fullback Doug Dick, the fastest man on the Stanford football team, probably will miss the 1957 season because he broke a leg in a rugby game last Saturday.

Stanford coaches said they doubted that the 190-senior would be able to play. He has run 100 yards in :09.8 seconds.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. (INS) — Howard Hughes has always had a soft spot in his heart for motion pictures, even when he's not actively producing. So I can't say I'm too surprised that Howard has bought "If You Remember Me," by Ben L. Perry, to star Jane Russell. And, as Howard always does things in a big way, I hear he's talking to George Cukor about directing Jane.

It hasn't been decided whether this will be made for Jane and Bob Waterfield's Russfield Productions or whether Howard will set up an independent company. I suspect it will be the latter. In any event, Waterfield will be associate producer.

I am very glad that Bonita Granville (Mrs. Jack Wrather) has a accepted a dramatic acting assignment. She'll play opposite Barry Sullivan in "One Way Passage" on Lux Video Theatre March 7. What a great picture this was when Warners made it with William Powell and Kay Francis in the leads.

When I visited Katharine Hepburn at 20th Century-Fox, where she's making "Desk Set" with Spencer Tracy, we discussed her "As You Like It," in which she scored a hot on Broadway. I was there opening night and it was an unforgettable experience.

Now Katie tells me she will play Beatrice to Alfred Drake's Benedict in "Much Ado About Nothing" for the American Shakespeare Festival at Stratford, Conn., with John Houseman directing. She opens July 29.

Four Shakespearean plays will be presented and Katie will do one other. I hope it will be "As You Like It." In one of the four, "Othello," Drake plays Iago, but Katie does not appear. Her negotiations were carried on via telephone with Houseman and Lawrence Langner of the Theatre Guild.

Shapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The Anne Bancroft romance with Pete Rugolo, musical arranger, is serious — if holding hands at the Encore at a table for two means anything.

The honeymoon is still on with Elizabeth Taylor and Mike Todd. They dined by themselves at Perino's.

Lori Nelson is a twice-a-day visitor to Good Samaritan Hospital where her boyfriend, publisher Bob Petersen, is a patient. He's undergoing treatment for a slipped disc.

At the same hour Gene Buck's funeral mass is being said in New York, members of the Los Angeles ASCAP society, including Johnny Green, Harry Warren and Jimmy McHugh, have arranged for a mass in Hollywood. Wolfie Gilbert flew to New York for the services.

The green light has finally been given Conrad Hilton to build one of his hotels in Athens, which will be completed in 1959.

Mrs. Garlinda Rambeau, Marjorie's mother, is in Hollywood Hospital with a fractured hip—the same injury Marjorie suffered a few years ago.

Marie Wilson gets her wish to wear glamorous clothes in the Marie Wilson CBS-TV show. She'll play the richest girl in the world.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. (INS) — Howard Hughes has always had a soft spot in his heart for motion pictures, even when he's not actively producing. So I can't say I'm too surprised that Howard has bought "If You Remember Me," by Ben L. Perry, to star Jane Russell. And, as Howard always does things in a big way, I hear he's talking to George Cukor about directing Jane.

It hasn't been decided whether this will be made for Jane and Bob Waterfield's Russfield Productions or whether Howard will set up an independent company. I suspect it will be the latter. In any event, Waterfield will be associate producer.

I am very glad that Bonita Granville (Mrs. Jack Wrather) has a accepted a dramatic acting assignment. She'll play opposite Barry Sullivan in "One Way Passage" on Lux Video Theatre March 7. What a great picture this was when Warners made it with William Powell and Kay Francis in the leads.

When I visited Katharine Hepburn at 20th Century-Fox, where she's making "Desk Set" with Spencer Tracy, we discussed her "As You Like It," in which she scored a hot on Broadway. I was there opening night and it was an unforgettable experience.

Now Katie tells me she will play Beatrice to Alfred Drake's Benedict in "Much Ado About Nothing" for the American Shakespeare Festival at Stratford, Conn., with John Houseman directing. She opens July 29.

Four Shakespearean plays will be presented and Katie will do one other. I hope it will be "As You Like It," In one of the four, "Othello," Drake plays Iago, but Katie does not appear. Her negotiations were carried on via telephone with Houseman and Lawrence Langner of the Theatre Guild.

Shapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The Anne Bancroft romance with Pete Ruzolo, musical arranger, is serious — if holding hands at the Encore at a table for two means anything.

The honeymoon is still on with Elizabeth Taylor and Mike Todd. They dined by themselves at Perino's.

Lori Nelson is a twice-a-day visitor to Good Samaritan Hospital where her boyfriend, publisher Bob Petersen, is a patient. He's undergoing treatment for a slipped disc.

At the same hour Gene Buck's funeral mass is being said in New York, members of the Los Angeles ASCAP society, including Johnny Green, Harry Warren and Jimmy McHugh, have arranged for a mass in Hollywood. Wolfie Gilbert flew to New York for the services.

The green light has finally been given Conrad Hilton to build one of his hotels in Athens, which will be completed in 1959.

Mrs. Garlinda Rambeau, Marjorie's mother, is in Hollywood Hospital with a fractured hip—the same injury Marjorie suffered a few years ago.

Marie Wilson gets her wish to wear glamorous clothes in the Marie Wilson CBS-TV show. She'll play the richest girl in the world.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 heart	2 diamonds	2 hearts
Pass	3 clubs	3 diamonds	3 spades
Pass	4 hearts	Pass	5 clubs
Pass	6 hearts	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead: King of diamonds.

Today's hand clearly reveals that two chances are better than one. Declarer saw only the more obvious prospect and lost his vulnerable slam when the adverse distribution wrecked his line of play.

North entered the auction like a lamb, but on the next two rounds he behaved more like a lion, and South on the basis of his singleton diamond contracted for slam.

West opened the king of diamonds, and South ruffed the continuation. It appeared that declarer was faced with the loss of a spade trick in addition to the diamond trick which the defense had already cashed, but he set out to win the hand by reversing dummy.

He ruffed the second lead of diamonds with the king of hearts, led the deuce of trumps to the nine and ruffed another diamond with the ace of hearts. He entered dummy with the ten of hearts in order to ruff out the fourth diamond.

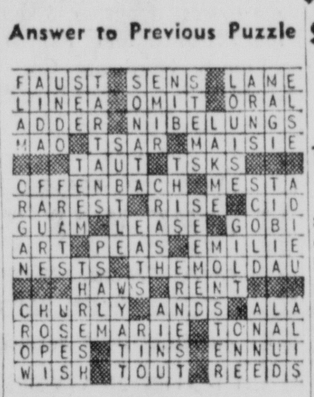

Had West followed to the second round of trumps, declarer would have been home, for the queen of hearts would have drawn the last trump, upon which South would discard a losing spade, and the South hand would be solid. But when East showed up with four hearts, declarer could not now keep him from making a small trump.

The bad trump break was unfortunate, but South had not availed himself of every opportunity. It is true that the hand can be won by a dummy reversal provided trumps break three-two, but before committing himself to this line of play, he should test the trump suit.

After ruffing the diamond continuation, South plays first the king of hearts and then over to the ten. When West shows out, the dummy reversal has to be abandoned. But it becomes apparent that he can win the hand if East follows to four rounds of clubs. He, therefore, runs four rounds of that suit, discarding two spades from dummy. Then ace, king and a spade ruff in dummy gives declarer the rest of the tricks.

The world's largest living bird is the ostrich.

Secrets Of Charm

By John Robert Powers

The Wide-Open Suit

Suit jackets worn wide open to show their blouses is the fashion order of the day. The look, reminiscent of the '30's, underscores casualness with charm. And blouses couldn't be more important.

Whether you wear a fragile lingerie blouse, a bow blouse, a sissy blouse, or a tailored shirt, you'll want to be flagrantly feminine, as far as grooming goes. And that means maintaining that bandbox look.

It seems that men are often more careful than women—they would automatically put on a fresh shirt daily—and twice a day if going out in the evening. But, some women will allow their blouses, shirts, and neckwear to look grimy before changing them. It is not only unsightly but takes away all of a woman's charm and glamor. White touches at the neck are like white gloves, I'm afraid. They should be washed each time to preserve their immaculate look.

Since you'll be wearing so many blouses, it might be wise to select those that you can wash. Washable ones in cotton, silk, or nylon or one of the newer "wonder - washing fabrics" are so fresh looking and can always be kept clean.

A wardrobe of blouses will carry you through several seasons. And no matter how often you don the "unbuttoned - jacket - suit," you'll look like a fresh new personality each time you wear a different blouse.

Tomorrow: Know your own voice.

Pass	3 clubs	3 diamonds	3 spades
Pass	4 hearts	Pass	5 clubs

Pass

Opening lead: King of diamonds.

Today's hand clearly reveals that two chances are better than one. Declarer saw only the more obvious prospect and lost his vulnerable slam when the adverse distribution wrecked his line of play.

North entered the auction like a lamb, but on the next two rounds he behaved more like a lion, and South on the basis of his singleton diamond contracted for slam.

West opened the king of diamonds, and South ruffed the continuation. It appeared that declarer was faced with the loss of a spade trick in addition to the diamond trick which the defense had already cashed, but he set out to win the hand by reversing dummy.

He ruffed the second lead of diamonds with the king of hearts, led the deuce of trumps to the nine and ruffed another diamond with the ace of hearts. He entered dummy with the ten of hearts in order to ruff out the fourth diamond.

Had West followed to the second round of trumps, declarer would have been home, for the queen of hearts would have drawn the last trump, upon which South would discard a losing spade, and the South hand would be solid. NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—The stock market edged irregularly downward today in another slow session featured by wide movements of a few stocks.

On average the list was barely above its 1956 low but still ahead of its lowest point of the current year.

Boeing took the center of the stage of today's performance falling 4¾ at worst before closing with a net loss of 2¾ as the day's most active stock.

This stock underwent some heavy selling on the statement from Defense Secretary Wilson that production of this company's big B52 bomber would come up for reconsideration and that there was opinion that it might be succeeded by the B58 "Hustler" of General Dynamics.

Fast-running Lukens Steel, the star of last year's market, ran up another 3⅝ points following announcement that its 1956 earnings were about triple what they were in 1955.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 30 cents to $171.70 with the industrials down 80 cents, the rails unchanged and the utilities up 10 cents.

The 1,087 issues traded made it the narrowest market since last Nov. 12. Declines outnumbered advances by 432 to 395. There were 21 new 1956-'57 lows and five new highs.

Atones With Life

TSUCHIURA, Japan, Feb. 27 (AP)—Bridegroom Shigemasa Imabashi kicked over a bedroom charcoal burner on his wedding night and burned down his bride's farmhouse. Two hours later Imabashi killed himself by jumping in front of a train, apparently to atone for his clumsiness, police said.

Tremont House, in Boston, was the first hotel in the United States to allow guests to sleep alone. Before it opened in 1829, single rooms were not available.

Soviet Press Lauds Poet Longfellow

MOSCOW, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Soviet press put Henry Wadsworth Longfellow on a peaceful coexistence pedestal today.

The newspaper Soviet Culture said the New England creator of Hiawatha was "a humanitarian, condemned war and demanded its abolition."

The press was warming up for a gala celebration today at Moscow's Tchaikovsky Theater on the 150th anniversary of the American poet's birth.

Stock Market Irregularly Lower In Slow Session

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—The stock market edged irregularly downward today in another slow session featured by wide movements of a few stocks.

On average the list was barely above its 1956 low but still ahead of its lowest point of the current year.

The background of corporate news continued mixed and uncertainty about the Middle East once again backgrounded the attitude of investors.

Boeing took the center of the stage of today's performance falling 4¾ at worst before closing with a net loss of 2¾ as the day's most active stock.

This stock underwent some heavy selling on the statement from Defense Secretary Wilson that production of this company's big B52 bomber would come up for reconsideration and that there was opinion that it might be succeeded by the B58 "Hustler" of General Dynamics.

Fast-running Lukens Steel, the star of last year's market, ran up another 3⅝ points following announcement that its 1956 earnings were about triple what they were in 1955.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 30 cents to $171.70 with the industrials down 80 cents, the rails unchanged and the utilities up 10 cents.

The 1,087 issues traded made it the narrowest market since last Nov. 12. Declines outnumbered advances by 432 to 395. There were 21 new 1956-'57 lows and five new highs.

Atones With Life

TSUCHIURA, Japan, Feb. 27 (AP)—Bridegroom Shigemasa Imabashi kicked over a bedroom charcoal burner on his wedding night and burned down his bride's farmhouse. Two hours later Imabashi killed himself by jumping in front of a train, apparently to atone for his clumsiness, police said.

Tremont House, in Boston, was the first hotel in the United States to allow guests to sleep alone. Before it opened in 1829, single rooms were not available.

Soviet Press Lauds Poet Longfellow

MOSCOW, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Soviet press put Henry Wadsworth Longfellow on a peaceful coexistence pedestal today.

The newspaper Soviet Culture said the New England creator of Hiawatha was "a humanitarian, condemned war and demanded its abolition."

The Teachers' Gazette said Longfellow "remains one of the most beloved and widely read poets in the world despite attempts by modern bourgeois critics to knock him from his pedestal."

State Senate Votes To Override Veto

House To Act On Repealer Today

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 27 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin's veto of a bill to repeal motor vehicle registration fee increases was smacked down quickly in the Maryland Senate today, but the House held up the expected final blow until tomorrow.

Majority Floor Leader Boone (D-Balto County) called a Democratic caucus to marshal party strength before bringing the matter to a vote.

"We discussed the governor's veto and I feel confident we have the votes to override it," he said afterward.

Boone had made the bill a party issue against the Republican governor when the House passed it 97-9, but there were no party lines in the Senate.

Only one senator raised his voice to sustain the governor's action as the veto was overriden 25-1.

Judgment Fund Approved

A short time later the Senate Judiciary Committee approved another measure affecting motorists. It would create a fund from which victims of negligent uninsured drivers could collect for damages exceeding $200.

The committee rejected two other bills on the same subject. One called for compulsory liability insurance on all vehicles. The other would require compulsory insurance and create a fund to protect victims of the estimated 2,000 motorists who, for various reasons, would escape the compulsory insurance provisions.

The lone supporter for Gov. McKeldin's veto of the license fee repealer was a Democrat, Sen. Redden of Caroline County.

He said he had reconsidered his earlier vote for the bill and felt the Legislature should await further reports on revenue prospects for the state roads program before taking such action.

Favors Postponement

Redden said he would favor another one-year postponement of the fee increases but not elimination. He noted that Senate President Goldstein (D-Calvert) had even put in a bill calling for a 2 cent increase in the gasoline tax in order to insure the program would have money for completion.

No one argued with Redden as the bill otherwise went through a quick roll call of "ayes." Absent and not voting were Sens. DiDomenico (D-Balto 2d), Monroe (R-Charles) and Weinroth (D-Cecil).

The fee increases were originally scheduled to go into effect for 1955 car and truck license tags as part of the financing of the state's 12-year roads program. It was estimated they would bring in 43 million dollars over the period, with prices of automobile plates going up $5 and $7 depending on size of the car, and those for trucks in amounts ranging to $500.

The Legislature postponed them for three straight years and this year Sens. Malkus (D-Dorchester), Nock (D-Wicomico) and Friend (R-Garrett) began a concerted push to have them repealed. Sponsors contended increased federal highway aid for the state had eliminated any need of the increases.

McKeldin, in vetoing the bill late yesterday, said the amount of federal aid is still an uncertain factor in the roads program and cited the rising costs of the program since it was started. He said elimination of the higher fee might cause "irreparable damage."

On And Off The Hook

Major action by the House today was another fight on a bill to ban catching of rockfish in January and February. After having won and then lost a motion to send the bill back to committee, the supporters of commercial fishermen stalled off action at least until tomorrow by offering an amendment.

Then they moved to lay the bill over for 24 hours, a request automatically granted under the rules. Further amendments are expected to it tomorrow, apparently intended to nullify or weaken the bill.

The committee votes on the insurance bills were 7-3 against the compulsory insurance bill, 6-3 against the combined insurance-fund bill and 8-2 in favor of the unsatisfied claim and judgment bill.

Senate Passes County Coal Weighing Bill

Other Measures Are Enacted

The Senate yesterday passed and sent to the House a bill which would exempt large users of coal in this county from part of the provisions of the state weights and measures law.

Sponsored by Senator Charles M. See, SB 353 in effect allows coal truckers to use scale weights taken at the mine, instead of having the load weighed at a public scale, when the coal is being delivered to certain large users in the county.

Governor McKeldin on Tuesday signed into law two Allegany County bills, one setting a new pay standard for orphans court judges and the other correcting a term situation on the Board of Education.

House Bill 45 sponsored by Del. George R. Hughes Jr. calls for the governor to appoint a member of the Board of Education on the first Monday in May of each year.

Under the original bill of the 1951 legislature, there would have been no appointment to the board next year because of an inadvertent omission in its phrasing.

Another bill signed was House Bill 267 sponsored by the Allegany County delegation. It provides for a slight pay increase for the three orphans court judges.

The judges now receive $15 a day plus $200 traveling expenses. This figures to about a total of $1,760 if a judge attends all sessions.

The new law calls for a flat $1,800 a year for each of the judges. The travel allowance is removed. The law becomes effective June 1.

The House Judiciary Committee gave an unfavorable report Tuesday to the bill sponsored by Del. Hughes that would lower the voting age to 18 years.

Hyde Pleads For Clean River, Not TVA Project

"Let's clean up the Potomac River now and provide the means of keeping it clean," Rep.. DeWitt S. Hyde pleaded yesterday in announcing he was "unequivocally opposed" to a Potomac Valley TVA.

The Sixth District Congressman said he was distressed "beyond measure to find members of the interstate conference on water and pollution called by Governor McKeldin turning their attention to big dams and hydro-electric power."

He said Louis L. Goldstein, president of the Maryland Senate "seemed to be thinking in terms of a Potomac Valley TVA, which is, I assure you, a far cry from effective measures to control pollution.

"Little was accomplished by the wrangle over private vs. public power except, perhaps, to demonstrate how unfamiliar some people are with the gravity of the pollution problem in the Potomac."

He said most of the people in the district see in a TVA-type project "only a useless and unnecessary inundation of thousands of acres of valley land and the destruction of the C & O. Canal."

Tentative Bus Pact Reached

A tentative agreement on a new contract was reached yesterday by negotiators for Local 1110,, Bus Drivers Union, and the Cumberland Transit Lines.

James Morrison, president of the local, said the agreement, which is subject to ratification of the union membership, was reached at an all-day session yesterday.

He said the negotiating committee will recommend acceptance of the agreement at a special meeting to be held Friday at 12:30 a. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Details of the pact were not disclosed prior to membership action.

The platoon is made up of personnel from Frederick, Hagerstown, and the Martinsburg area, and includes some 18 men.

On Armed Forces Day in 1955 Captain Tubbs was service chairman for a program here, and annually he has been active in the "Toys For Tots" drive held at Christmas time.

This program has become a year-round project. He is also a member of the board of directors of Associated Charities; USO Committee; Western Maryland Pistol Club, Cumberland Detachment Marine Corps League, and is affiliated with First Presbyterian Church. He and his wife and family reside at 1008 Kent Avenue.

Heart Fund Total Nears Area Quota

$13,910.84 Shown As Total To Date

The Allegany-Garrett Heart Association fund campaign, with a goal of $16,015, has collected to date a total of $13,910.84, James W. Bishop, general chairman, said yesterday.

With only one day left in the Heart Fund drive, Mr. Bishop requests that all areas, community and neighborhood leaders, and organizations with reports to make, submit them as soon as possible.

Indications are that the goal will be reached when all returns are in, he said.

Plastic heart coin containers will be collected Friday and Saturday. Checks have been promised from several organizations, and a couple of industries which have in-plant solicitation plans have included Heart in their distribution of funds.

However, it is imperative that every worker make an immediate report, he said. The figures in last evening's total include money raised in Garrett County, as well as funds raised in this county, he observed.

Since February is set aside everywhere as Heart month, and the Red Cross local and national campaign is held in March, Mr. Bishop said the local Heart Association board of directors urges closing the campaign by the end of the month, today.

The Heart Fund drive falls in between the March of Dimes in January and the Red Cross Drive in March. Heart tries not to interfere with the March of Dimes by releasing publicity and campaign plans too early, and also tries to close its solicitation by the end of February, so Red Cross has no interference from Heart.

Three Jailed On Check Charge

Three men are being lodged in the Allegany County Jail on charges of obtaining $92.65 from a local tavern keeper by passing a false and counterfeit check.

One of the three, Glen Eugene Stouffer, was arrested Tuesday. The other two, Alfred Thomas Cannon and Raymond Thomas Gallagher, were arrested yesterday.

They are accused of cashing the check February 22 with intent to defraud James Durkin, trading as Ruth's Tavern, 27 Williams Street.

Lt. R. H. Johnston Serves 35 Years On Police Force

Lt. Raymond H. "Mooney" Johnston, 1108 Holland Street, who traveled many, many miles on a motorcycle in Cumberland during his career as a local policeman, is marking his 35th year today as a member of the force.

On February 28, 1922, he became a policeman and was assigned to motorcycle patrol of the city in traffic work.

He worked both day and night shifts alternately and became adept with his motorcycle. When he joined the department there were about eight such cycles in use—today all have been replaced by cruisers.

Lt. Johnson, who worked up to the rank of sergeant while a cyclist, went into the traffic division about ten years ago.

Lt. Johnson said he could write a book on his various experiences.

One of those experiences occurred on a Christmas Eve when three men held up a store on Hill Top Drive and got away with about $4,000.

Two days later, "Mooney" and the late Terrence Boyle, county investigator, and former Sheriff Hugh Hotchkiss, joined Gilbert Robinette, now police chief in Moorefield, to capture the trio in that community. Two of the holdup men were wounded in the arrest.

During his career, Lt. Johnston received four citations from the late Police Chief Oscar Eyerman for his efforts in saving the lives of four local persons.

One of these was a small boy trapped under a pile of sand, a woman who nearly suffocated, another boy who nearly drowned in the icy waters of the Potomac River, and a fourth person who was overcome by gas.

Commenting on the traffic situation, Lt. Johnston said he is looking forward to the Thruway, in that tractor-trailers and other travelers will not have to enter the heart of the city to reach their destinations.

Although he is eligible for retirement, Lt. Johnston said he plans to remain on the force "for a while yet."

Taking an interest in youth, he headed the Police Boys Club activities for three years. A member of Cumberland Aerie 245, FO Eagles, he also belongs to Lodge 63, BPO Elks, Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, Voiture 164, 40-8; and the Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Evitts Creek Pumping Unit Takes Shape

The Evitts Creek pumping station of Cumberland's sewage treatment plant took final shape last week, according to Mayor Roy W. Eves.

He said crews of the Moyer Brothers, Altoona, contractor for the $1,531,000 construction job, completed laying the brick walls of the pumping station and poured a 16 cubic yard concrete slab for the deck roof of the station.

Workers completed the installation of a 24-inch pipe overflow and had nearly finished building three manholes for the pipe.

Inside, crews installed three sewage pumps and had nearly completed the piping for the station.

A major part of the sewage plant, the pumping station will collect sewage which flows into it by gravity and pump the contents, by way of a force main, to the main plant for treatment.

At the main plant, crews last week worked on the sludge beds, dug trenches for electric cables and continued work on various finishing tasks.

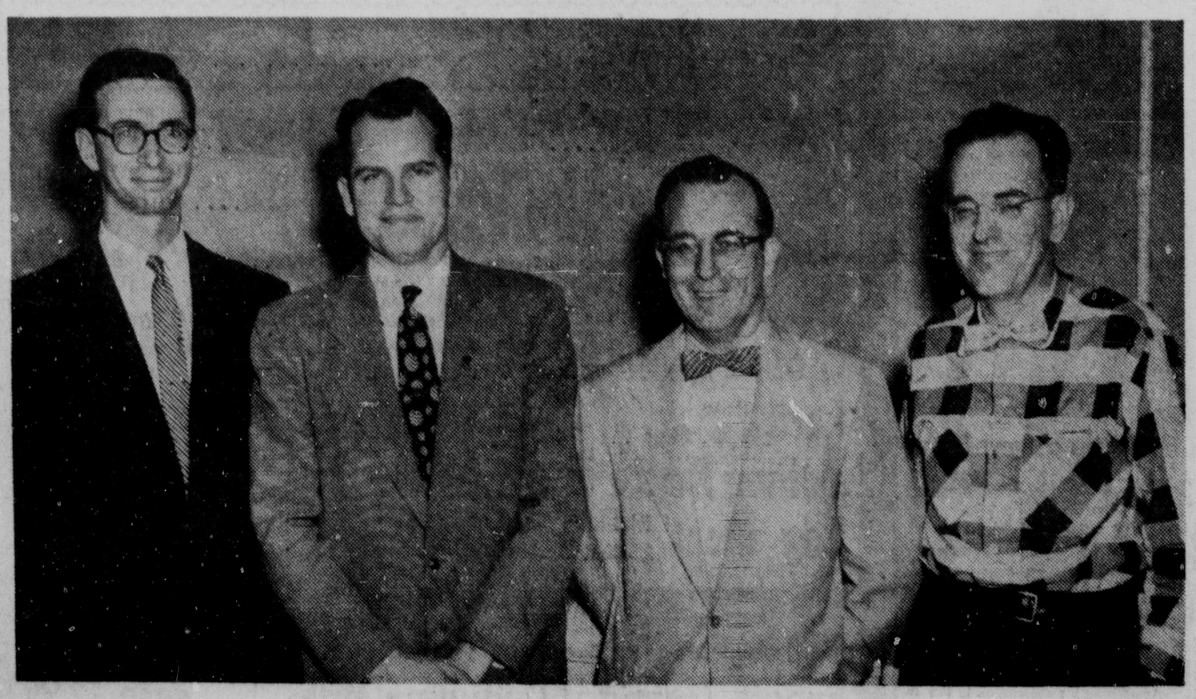

Penalty Planned In Auction Law

A penalty for failure to comply with the provisions of a law regulating public auctions is provided in House Bill 528, which was introduced by Del. Kermit S. Glotfelty.

The penalty clause provides that "any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall, upon conviction thereof, be subject to a fine of not less than $500."

The law enacted in 1953 for Garrett County provides that holders of regular auctions furnish bond with cash or corporate surety not less than 90 per cent of the average total sales in the previous year.

The bond, according to the law, protects consignors who send goods for sale at the auction and who are not paid promptly for any goods sold.

Heart Fund Total Nears Area Quota

$13,910.84 Shown As Total To Date

The Allegany-Garrett Heart Association fund campaign, with a goal of $16,015, has collected to date a total of $13,910.84, James W. Bishop, general chairman, said yesterday.

With only one day left in the Heart Fund drive, Mr. Bishop requests that all areas, community and neighborhood leaders, and organizations with reports to make, submit them as soon as possible.

Indications are that the goal will be reached when all returns are in, he said.

Plastic heart coin containers will be collected Friday and Saturday. Checks have been promised from several organizations, and a couple of industries which have in-plant solicitation plans have included Heart in their distribution of funds.

However, it is imperative that every worker make an immediate report, he said. The figures in last evening's total include money raised in Garrett County, as well as funds raised in this county, he observed.

Since February is set aside everywhere as Heart month, and the Red Cross local and national campaign is held in March, Mr. Bishop said the local Heart Association board of directors urges closing the campaign by the end of the month, today.

The Heart Fund drive falls in between the March of Dimes in January and the Red Cross Drive in March. Heart tries not to interfere with the March of Dimes by releasing publicity and campaign plans too early, and also tries to close its solicitation by the end of February, so Red Cross has no interference from Heart.

Three Jailed On Check Charge

Three men are being lodged in the Allegany County Jail on charges of obtaining $92.65 from a local tavern keeper by passing a false and counterfeit check.

One of the three, Glen Eugene Stouffer, was arrested Tuesday. The other two, Alfred Thomas Cannon and Raymond Thomas Gallagher, were arrested yesterday.

They are accused of cashing the check February 22 with intent to defraud James Durkin, trading as Ruth's Tavern, 27 Williams Street.

Lt. R. H. Johnston Serves 35 Years On Police Force

Lt. Raymond H. "Mooney" Johnston, 1108 Holland Street, who traveled many, many miles on a motorcycle in Cumberland during his career as a local policeman, is marking his 35th year today as a member of the force.

On February 28, 1922, he became a policeman and was assigned to motorcycle patrol of the city in traffic work.

He worked both day and night shifts alternately and became adept with his motorcycle. When he joined the department there were about eight such cycles in use—today all have been replaced by cruisers.

Lt. Johnson, who worked up to the rank of sergeant while a cyclist, went into the traffic division about ten years ago.

Lt. Johnson said he could write a book on his various experiences.

One of those experiences occurred on a Christmas Eve when three men held up a store on Hill Top Drive and got away with about $4,000.

Two days later, "Mooney" and the late Terrence Boyle, county investigator, and former Sheriff Hugh Hotchkiss, joined Gilbert Robinette, now police chief in Moorefield, to capture the trio in that community. Two of the holdup men were wounded in the arrest.

During his career, Lt. Johnston received four citations from the late Police Chief Oscar Eyerman for his efforts in saving the lives of four local persons.

One of these was a small boy trapped under a pile of sand, a woman who nearly suffocated, another boy who nearly drowned in the icy waters of the Potomac River, and a fourth person who was overcome by gas.

Commenting on the traffic situation, Lt. Johnston said he is looking forward to the Thruway, in that tractor-trailers and other travelers will not have to enter the heart of the city to reach their destinations.

Although he is eligible for retirement, Lt. Johnston said he plans to remain on the force "for a while yet."

Taking an interest in youth, he headed the Police Boys Club activities for three years. A member of Cumberland Aerie 245, FO Eagles, he also belongs to Lodge 63, BPO Elks, Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, Voiture 164, 40-8; and the Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Evitts Creek Pumping Unit Takes Shape

The Evitts Creek pumping station of Cumberland's sewage treatment plant took final shape last week, according to Mayor Roy W. Eves.

He said crews of the Moyer Brothers, Altoona, contractor for the $1,531,000 construction job, completed laying the brick walls of the pumping station and poured a 16 cubic yard concrete slab for the deck roof of the station.

Workers completed the installation of a 24-inch pipe overflow and had nearly finished building three manholes for the pipe.

Inside, crews installed three sewage pumps and had nearly completed the piping for the station.

A major part of the sewage plant, the pumping station will collect sewage which flows into it by gravity and pump the contents, by way of a force main, to the main plant for treatment.

Penalty Planned In Auction Law

A penalty for failure to comply with the provisions of a law regulating public auctions is provided in House Bill 528, which was introduced by Del. Kermit S. Glotfelty.

The penalty clause provides that "any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall, upon conviction thereof, be subject to a fine of not less than $500."

The law enacted in 1953 for Garrett County provides that holders of regular auctions furnish bond with cash or corporate surety not less than 90 per cent of the average total sales in the previous year.

The bond, according to the law, protects consignors who send goods for sale at the auction and who are not paid promptly for any goods sold.
